AMERICA'S MOBILIZATION

Here in our country, the torch of freedom burns high. Shining as a beacon, its glowing light ever guides us to the way of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." We breathe free air—We are not regimented into virtual enslavement—We have the right of free speech—We have the right to worship freely and publicly to assemble. We have the right to be secure in our persons and in our homes.

It is no accident that these things are so, they are a precious heritage, established for us by men who believed that they were worth fighting for, worth the sacrifice of lives and fortunes to establish.

Tomorrow the United States may be without a friend, anywhere in the world, able to lift a finger or even a voice for us. Upon us alone may fall the wrath—and the demands of a dictator ruled world.

If these things happen, democracy may die—or it may be born again.

To survive we must be strong—strong enough to meet any situation. We must make democracy in the United States work as it has never worked before in its history. We must make the spirit of freedom blaze as it has not blazed since the days of the revolution.

Steps of mobilization are in progress to produce this strength. Industry has been mobilized. The great factories of our nation have made the preparedness issue paramount. New positions of great power have been created and great men have been appointed to fill these positions. Production has been stepped up to a 24 hour schedule. Workers and employers have agreed to overlook differences in opinion, to increase the tempo of the nation's machinery.

Next the man power of the United States has been mobilized into a powerful army, navy, and air corps. The men of our country have been called to colors and have responded whole-heartedly. Families, friends, good jobs and college educations have been left behind—the request that was made of our men has been met.

Finally comes the most important phase in America's mobilization—the work of regimenting her citizens. This consists chiefly of the forming of an attitude—an attitude of victory. Through simple acts that display will to win, acts such as women knitting for British soldiers, students trying to further their understandings of the workings of a democracy, the pride shown by workers which results from the increased responsibility placed upon them—through acts like these the citizens offer encouragement to our industry and our man power. It is these simple deeds that count. As Emerson so aptly said, "The only true prayer is the farmer plowing in the field."

Simple, sincere efforts mold its will to win—the will, this is so necessary for victory in any kind of competitive contest; be it in sports, or in something as great as the struggle of a nation to uphold and preserve its way of life.

It is to this effort, to weld our national and spiritual heritage into the structure of a strong, dynamic America that we dedicate this 1941 issue of the Mirror.

DEDICATION

At a time such as this with the world rocking on its foundation from the greatest upheaval in its troubled history, it is indeed both fitting and urgent that all of us Americans should reaffirm the bond of loyalty which binds us in service to our country. The instilling of such an emotion within our people will assure the carrying out of the national preparedness program in the speediest and most thorough manner possible. Thus we of the class of 1941 are of one mind in dedicating this yearbook to our theme—God Bless America—and to the great work of national defense.

—Tom Calero

A MEMORIAL TO MRS. LASH

Mrs. N. G. Lash

We pause for a moment, to pay tribute to Mrs. N. G. Lash, for her undying loyalty and art contributions to our schools and community. All of her art tokens bespoke of patriotism, friendship, kindness, and citizenship. Mrs. Lash always had words of encouragement for the students as well as grown-ups, and our memories of her will forever linger here.

—James Stahl

I saw a boy die. He was about my age and having known him, the experience was the more realistic. My mind was in the formative period, and this episode regrettably instilled in me the first and foremost religion of my life.

The boy's back was broken and his skull fractured. He writhed in convulsions. Gasping for life one moment, he was motionless in death the next. I had never before witnessed in such propinquity a life being snuffed out, and the awfulness lay in the inability of man to alter his fate. A doctor of medicine, whose mission in the world was to lighten pain, stood helplessly by as did a doctor of divinity, summoned to relieve the sorrow of the occasion. Those keenest, most beneficent ministers to mortal wounds viewed as minute spectators the mighty drama conducted by the hand of God.

"Matter can be neither created nor destroyed." That is not so. In the beginning God created heaven and earth. Every day there are thousands of births, likewise there are thousands of deaths.

Similarly false is "Energy can be neither created nor destroyed, for each new life brings living energy, and with the annihilation of that life it is destroyed.

By saturating my mind with these arguments I have become an orthodox fatalist, believing every action of man predestined, and every contrary effort futile.

Others have endeavored to disprove my convictions and though they haven't altogether succeeded, I have found some evidence contradictory to the aforesaid reasoning.

God's own words falsify my theory disbelieving the law of "Conservation of Matter": he said to Adam, "For dust thou art, and unto dust thou shalt return."

Regarding my hypothesis against conservation of energy it would seem that I have neglected my faith in immortality for, as the reader has provably observed, if we believe in the hereafter we can not contenance that living energy is razed out that it is rejuvenated.

RP

N HAS WROUGHT

My belief now incorporates God's power of creation and man's power of discovery. I am no longer a fatalist but feel that we are guided, and are allowed to make discoveries. However, the ideas for our inventions must have long preceeded our advent.

Each century we have uncovered new wonders in our civilization and we, like sculptors modeling clay, having been given the wherewithal to combine, have striven ahead in what we term Progress.

Using the gifts of God: minerals, trees, water power, heat, light, earth, plants, chemicals, and chiefly—man's mechanical, electrical, and chemical energy have been harnessed to furnish the appointments of the modern era.

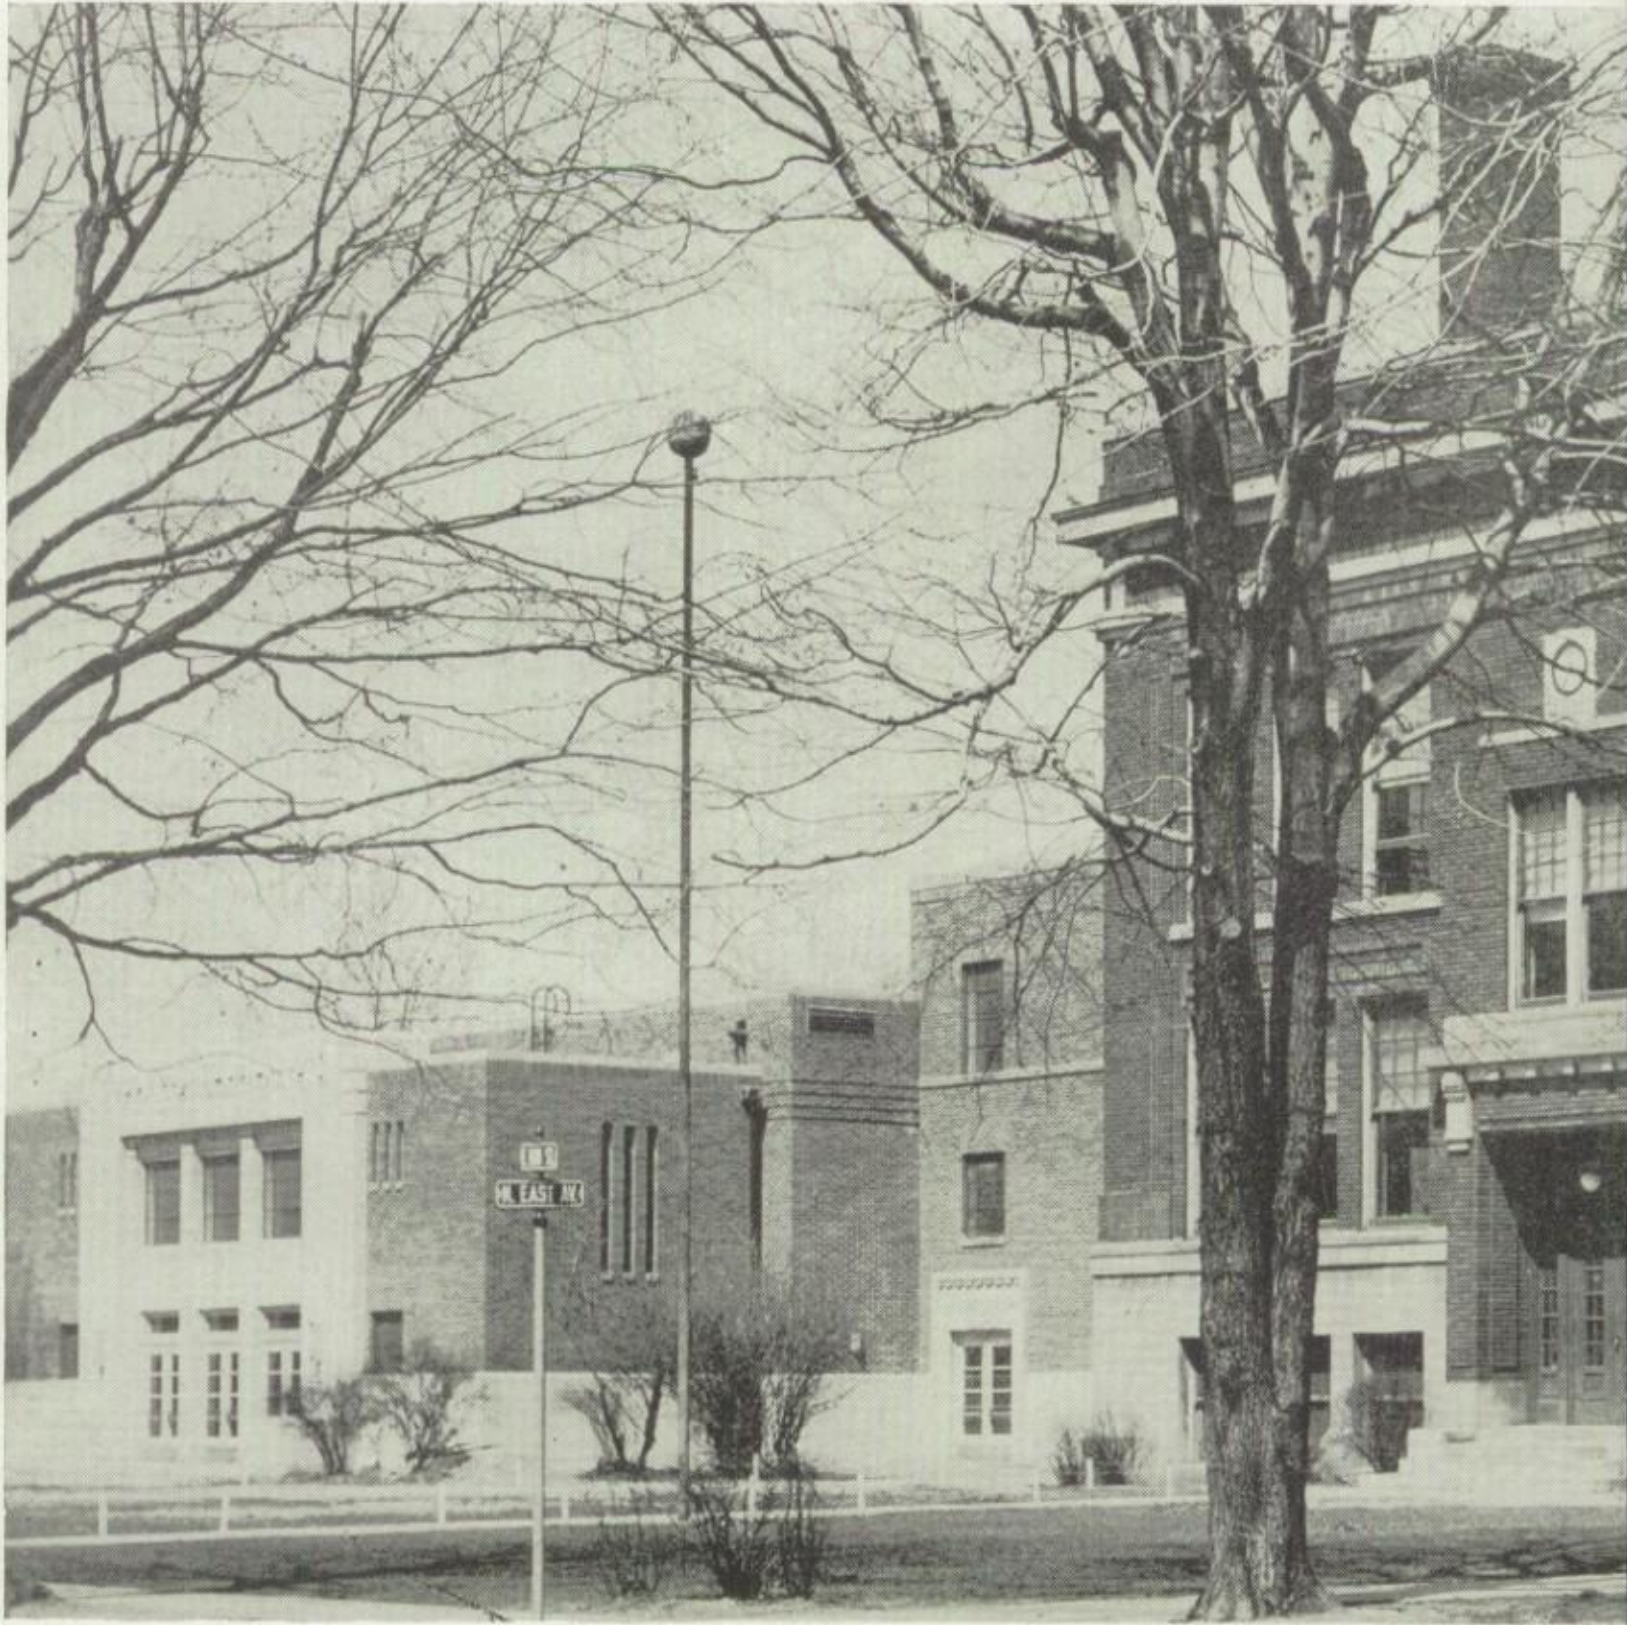

It is because of this advancement that I am so proud of my country. We hold the forefront in both the bestowal of natural resources and the utilization of our blessings. Because of our development we have shared the good will of other nations. Our people are happy; that is because we enjoy liberty.

But now some of the friendly foreign nations have capitulated, and the vanquishers covet our natural wealth. Our sacrosanct ideals and morals are the very antithesis of the horrendous enormity of the antagonists, so our fatherland must be protected.

I love America! I worship it, I venerate it, I revere it. Let us stand patriotically together in acclaiming to the world our appreciation of the bounty of our land.

—Margaret Stainthorpe.

THE AMERICAN

Knowledge, the seed of a full, rich, abundant life is instituted in the multitude of American schools.

The blackening and disintegration of far off institutions of knowledge tends to brighten and bring forth the everlasting necessity of such institutions of advanced learning here in our own country.

While the modern schools of our country offer unlimited progress in intellect and convenience, the old countries are demolishing and blotting out of existence the swelling desire for knowledge.

It is by these conditions that the majority of us realize the far extended goal that we are ever striving to overtake.

Our modern school buildings today are symbols of the liberty of free education to all. The internals of these same buildings have also brought to light the highest intellectual standard to be attained by a singular country as a whole. In these memorial halls the physical and mental organs are developed to the fullest capacity in the endeavor for advancement in moral and efficient citizenship.

May we say to you, friend or foe that you too have a part to play in this scheme of education, and that a vital part—in

While most of the world is engaged in a bitter struggle of life and death blackened by a hopeless future, we Americans, leisurely pursue our solitary way accepting without thought or consideration the blessings of freedom and peace that is ours to enjoy.

How little do we appreciate the privilege of a liberal education which has been such a strong link in the chain of Democracy. Neither do we find much sympathy being extended to those who have been designated

EXPRESSION OF THANKS

The acts which facilitate our journey on the road of life are the kindnesses of others.

Our stage has been this year decorated by the addition of a beautiful parlor grand piano. This gift was ours to enjoy through the generous diligence and endeavor of the Parent-Faculty Association.

This has been a vain dream for many years and its realization has brought genuine gladness to the hearts of every person who entertains music in his soul. We greatly appreciate this thoughtfulness on the part of our friends and parents and consider it another step in our march of progress.

Our school library has widened its doors of knowledge and pleasure by the efforts of the following:

BOOKS:

Set of Works of Washington Irving
Set of thirty-two science books
By Mrs. Bell Anderson.

MAGAZINES:

Twelve issues of Fortune
Rotarian subscription
By Rotary Club.

Twelve issues of Popular Science
By Mr. Roy Young.

GET WISDOM—GET UNDERSTANDING

All institutions of America have as their goal preparations for defense; Montpelier High School is no exception.

Suppose you spend a day with us; I'm sure you will agree that the training supplied is both varied and adequate. If we arrive at nine o'clock we are likely to enjoy over the public address system, the delivery of the usual morning announcements. These may be presented by students, as practice for our public speaking class, one of the divisions of the College Preparatory Course. This course, by the way, has a large enrollment; which would seem to indicate that many of our members plan to prepare for professions in order to serve America during this crisis.

In visiting the next two classes — let's stop first in room eight, then in room seven. In the former is a shorthand class, in the latter typing is being expounded. These are components of the Commercial Course whereby another group of our students are fitting themselves to cope with the monetary phase of protection.

From 10.30 till noon we shall attend the Agriculture classes, a group of promising boys who will bear the brunt of mechanical preparations.

There is an English IV class at one o'clock and an English III class at one forty-five. These subjects are required in all courses and combined with several others constitute the General Course, which is a broad basis for multitude of vocations.

The Home Economics course is demonstrated for our approval at two-thirty. Here is a group of girls who are going to alleviate many of the burdens of this decade.

Therefore, you see a composite picture of our fulfillment of the American Aim. While we witness the extra curriculum activities of the last period. We marvel at the splendid co-operation and at the zeal of the youth in good hands.

NEWS OF 1940 - 1941

KNOWLEDGE HAS ITS OWN REWARD

May the third, was an eventful day in the lives of no less than thirty-eight students of Montpelier High School. At that time the following persons journeyed to Bowling Green to enter the scholarship tests given there:

Biology, Carol Knecht and James Connell; Chemistry, Dene Richmond and Jerry Chappell; General Science, Bill Summers and Eugene King; Physics, Tom Calero and Margaret Stainthorpe; Algebra, -June Powers and Pames Suter; Plain Geometry, Joan Mansfield and Harvey Scott; American History, Leslie Miller and Wayne Nolin; English I, Gwen Bishoff and Rosalie Roush; English II, Leroy Patterson and Ellis Cox; English III, Virginia Long and Marilyn Miller; English IV, Ann Pace and Marjorie Best; Latin I, Marjorie Rothenburger and Robert Wilson; Latin II, Ruth Newman and Betty Headley; French I, Marguerite McDaniels and Wayne Pike; French II, Ann Rothenburger and Helen Cummins; Bookkeeping, Mary Welsh and Dick Pressler; Shorthand I, Bonnie King and Donna Miller; Shorthand II, Ruth Hawkins and Nettie Wyrick; Typing I, Mary Sue Hiner and Catherine Cox.

Those pupils attaining a high placement in the contest are seven in number. James Connell, well known by all the student body, won second in Biology; Ann Pace, a student of high rating, received second in English IV; Tom Calero, a most worthy pupil, placed fifth in Physics; Wayne Pike, who applies himself to the work at hand, won sixth in French I, Ruth Hawkins, a capable person, achieved the eighth position in Shorthand II; June Powers, competent in all her work, attained eighth in Algebra; and Nettie Wyrick, a diligent individual, finished tenth in Shorthand II.

It is indeed a great privilege to be able to participate in an event such as this. To be chosen to enter into these tests one must earn laudable grades throughout the year. However, a word of credit must also be given the teachers who have so faithfully trained these minds. Such tests serve as training material for future work and provides the students with an excellent view of college life. Furthermore, the students are entertained for the remainder of the day by students of the college. Many new and interesting sights seen while on the campus imbue some with a new desire to attend college.

THE CONTROL LEVERS OF THE FUTURE

Depression, foreign wars, fifth columnists, these are a few of the allotments pressed upon the youth of today. We have been reared through these troublesome years with the ever increasing feeling of the need to face the facts squarely and honestly.

Four important years have been spent in preparation to meet this thing called Life. Four well-sheltered years where teachers as well as parents walked by our side to help us over the rocks and boulders. Four years in which there has been a portion of gaiety, a portion of grief, combined with a great willingness to strive onward.

Now we are ready to struggle over these obstacles that lay in our path with no kind nor helping hand to clutch. With a small corner of our heart filled with fear we face the world of today alone. For the first time we must meet our obstacles without the advice we have become so accustomed to.

Can we meet this world which suddenly seems so large and mysterious to us?

Yes we feel that we, the youth of today, possess the requirements needed to help keep this nation a joyful democracy, for the future of our offspring, as our ancestors labored so ardently for our future.

We walk to the threshold of life with a calm assuredness that we can and will uphold our country, and its liberties, be it peacefully or with bloodshed.

This may be called human nature but let us call it a great thankfulness engraved upon our hearts. Thankful that we are allowed to live in this beautiful land of plenty. This country where all our needs are met. Where we can say to the world with a proud, brave, smile, "This is our country. We alone control the lever of its future."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Classmates and Friends:

The crisis is near, perhaps already upon us, and we can do naught but face it. That germ which periodically diseases the mind of man, causing him to bend every energy and resource toward the destruction of his fellow humans, has again injected its poison into the brains of those exalted few who hold the destiny of the world in their hands. Our nation is the only major one which has not yet been encircled by the holocaust. How long shall we stay so? I am no prophet, but who can refuse to see the handwriting on the wall, the trend of oft-repeated history? No alluring picture this, not one to be viewed through rose-colored glasses, certainly not one for an easy-going American people to readily become accustomed to. Thus as the class which preceded us from this high school viewed a world comparable to a seething cauldron, we of 1941 look upon one which has boiled over.

Perhaps by now, respected reader, the words I have penned have led you to label me a "Gloomy Gus" or some other synonym for pessimism, a condition I wish to alleviate. Let me say in my defense that no youth prays more passionately or searches more frantically than I for the light which may guide this war-weary world through the black shrouds of racial hates and national animosities till at length we shall all bask in the sunshine of eternal peace. Here also, I know, lie the sentiments of the classmates whose friendships I have so long cherished. It is indeed a rare privilege to act as a spokesman for a group which has won such distinction. Everything it attempted has been put on a higher plane than anything which had gone before. There has been no phase of school life that our members have not excelled in. We have among us honor students, star athletes, rising musicians, and others specially talented, in unusual numbers. Special events we have promoted, as the Junior play and the Junior-Senior Banquet, have left lasting impressions and as a final contribution to our school we leave this yearbook.

However, in closing, let me express the feeling that, far from resting on its laurels, the class of 1941 proposes to use its knowledge and energy to battle existing problems until at last each member shall reach his goal and heart's desire.

“WE, OF TOMMOROW”

*For many years we've labored
To get our education;
We now hope to be
A credit to our nation.*

*The teachers were always ready
Willingly doing their part;
They faithfully taught and trained us
Directly from the start.*

*We have training now to help us
And lofty high ambitions;
We have hope, and trust, and faith
To help with occupations.*

*Each day to the task before us
We have offered our very best;
We've found if we apply ourselves
We can conquer every test.*

*We shall take the right way
And live the best we can;
We shall then be honored
By every fellowman.*

—Betty Mansfield

A FOOL

*Why didn't I always study,
And do my level best,
Instead of using crib notes,
In every dog-gone test?*

*Yes, now that it's really over,
I look back o'er those days,
Of the fun I've had and friends I've made,
And see it Really Pays.*

*I had a silly idea,
That I was getting past,
But now that It's really over,
I've learned the truth at last.*

*What will be my future,
I'm a senseless little brat,
How will I obtain a job?
I should have thought of that.*

*Teachers I haven't really fooled them
By trying hard to cheat;
I found out too late friends,
It's, I who was getting beat.*

*You that have time to change
Before you're out of school,
Please try hard to do your best,
It's no fun to be a fool.*

BY DAWN'S EARLY LIGHT

As the enveloping darkness of night fades away and the first radiant shafts of sunlight spread their comforting warmth and light over the world, so have four years of high school education served to light and prepare the way to a successful life for the eighty-two seniors who are soon to graduate.

And from among the eighty-two stand out a few, prominent for their high scholastic records. Their records were achieved in one of two ways. Some were born to be leaders among men. To them was granted a brilliant mentality. The aura of intelligence radiates about them as does the dawn glow above the distant horizon.

Others were endowed with the seed of learning and have carefully cultivated the precious gift by study and concentration. They have added to their share of knowledge year by year, with painstaking effort.

But it is not a matter of consequence how they achieved their rank of distinction. The primary fact is that they have gained undisputed prominence. Their names will ever serve as a shining example to underclassmen, for the latter will see them as scholars to be emulated.

It is the fervent hope of the departing seniors that to all who follow in their footsteps will come the belief that the first year of school is the dawn of education. It is a dawn which, through the years, matures into a glorious, colorful day. It is our wish that all students may benefit from Education's valuable precepts as successfully as have the following.

1. Margaret Stainthorpe and Ann Pace.
2. Tom Calero and Lee Powers.

It is an interesting fact that there is a tie for both first and second scholastic honors.

—Ann Pace

SENIORS COMPETE IN ONE-ACT PLAY TOURNAMENT

The "Valiant" a very popular play was chosen by the Seniors for their contest number in the County One-Act Tournament meet.

The scene of action takes place in Warden Holts office, with Dyke, the prisoner, being questioned in a final attempt to learn his identity, but without avail, even though his sister has come a thousand miles in a vain search to find her long lost brother. Dyke maintains his silence and goes forth to the execution without revealing his identity.

CHARACTER PERSONNEL

Warden Holt — Lee Powers
James Dyke, the prisoner — Tom Calero
William Sayers — The Chaplain
Dykes Sister — Willene Bauer
The Jailor — James Stahl
Prison Attendant — Russell Priest

The local group won first place honors in the county and made a very fine showing in the district contest at Bowling Green with fifteen counties competing.

READY FOR

The earth in its formation passed through numerous cycles of growth and various periods of development—each necessary to the advancement and perfection of a universe—and each thing that came to be on this earth was subjected to this law of evolution. So do we, as beings controlled by this common law of existence, pass from one stage of life to another, with each preceding period the foundation and influence for the following one.

The years involved in our education establish to a certain extent our future. It is during this time that we form certain ideals, ambitions and habits that remain with us always and inevitably effect our futures. We as Juniors, have successfully passed through eight years of elementary school training and have finished our Freshman and Sophomore years—only a little time remains before our Junior year shall be completed.

THE LAST COURSE

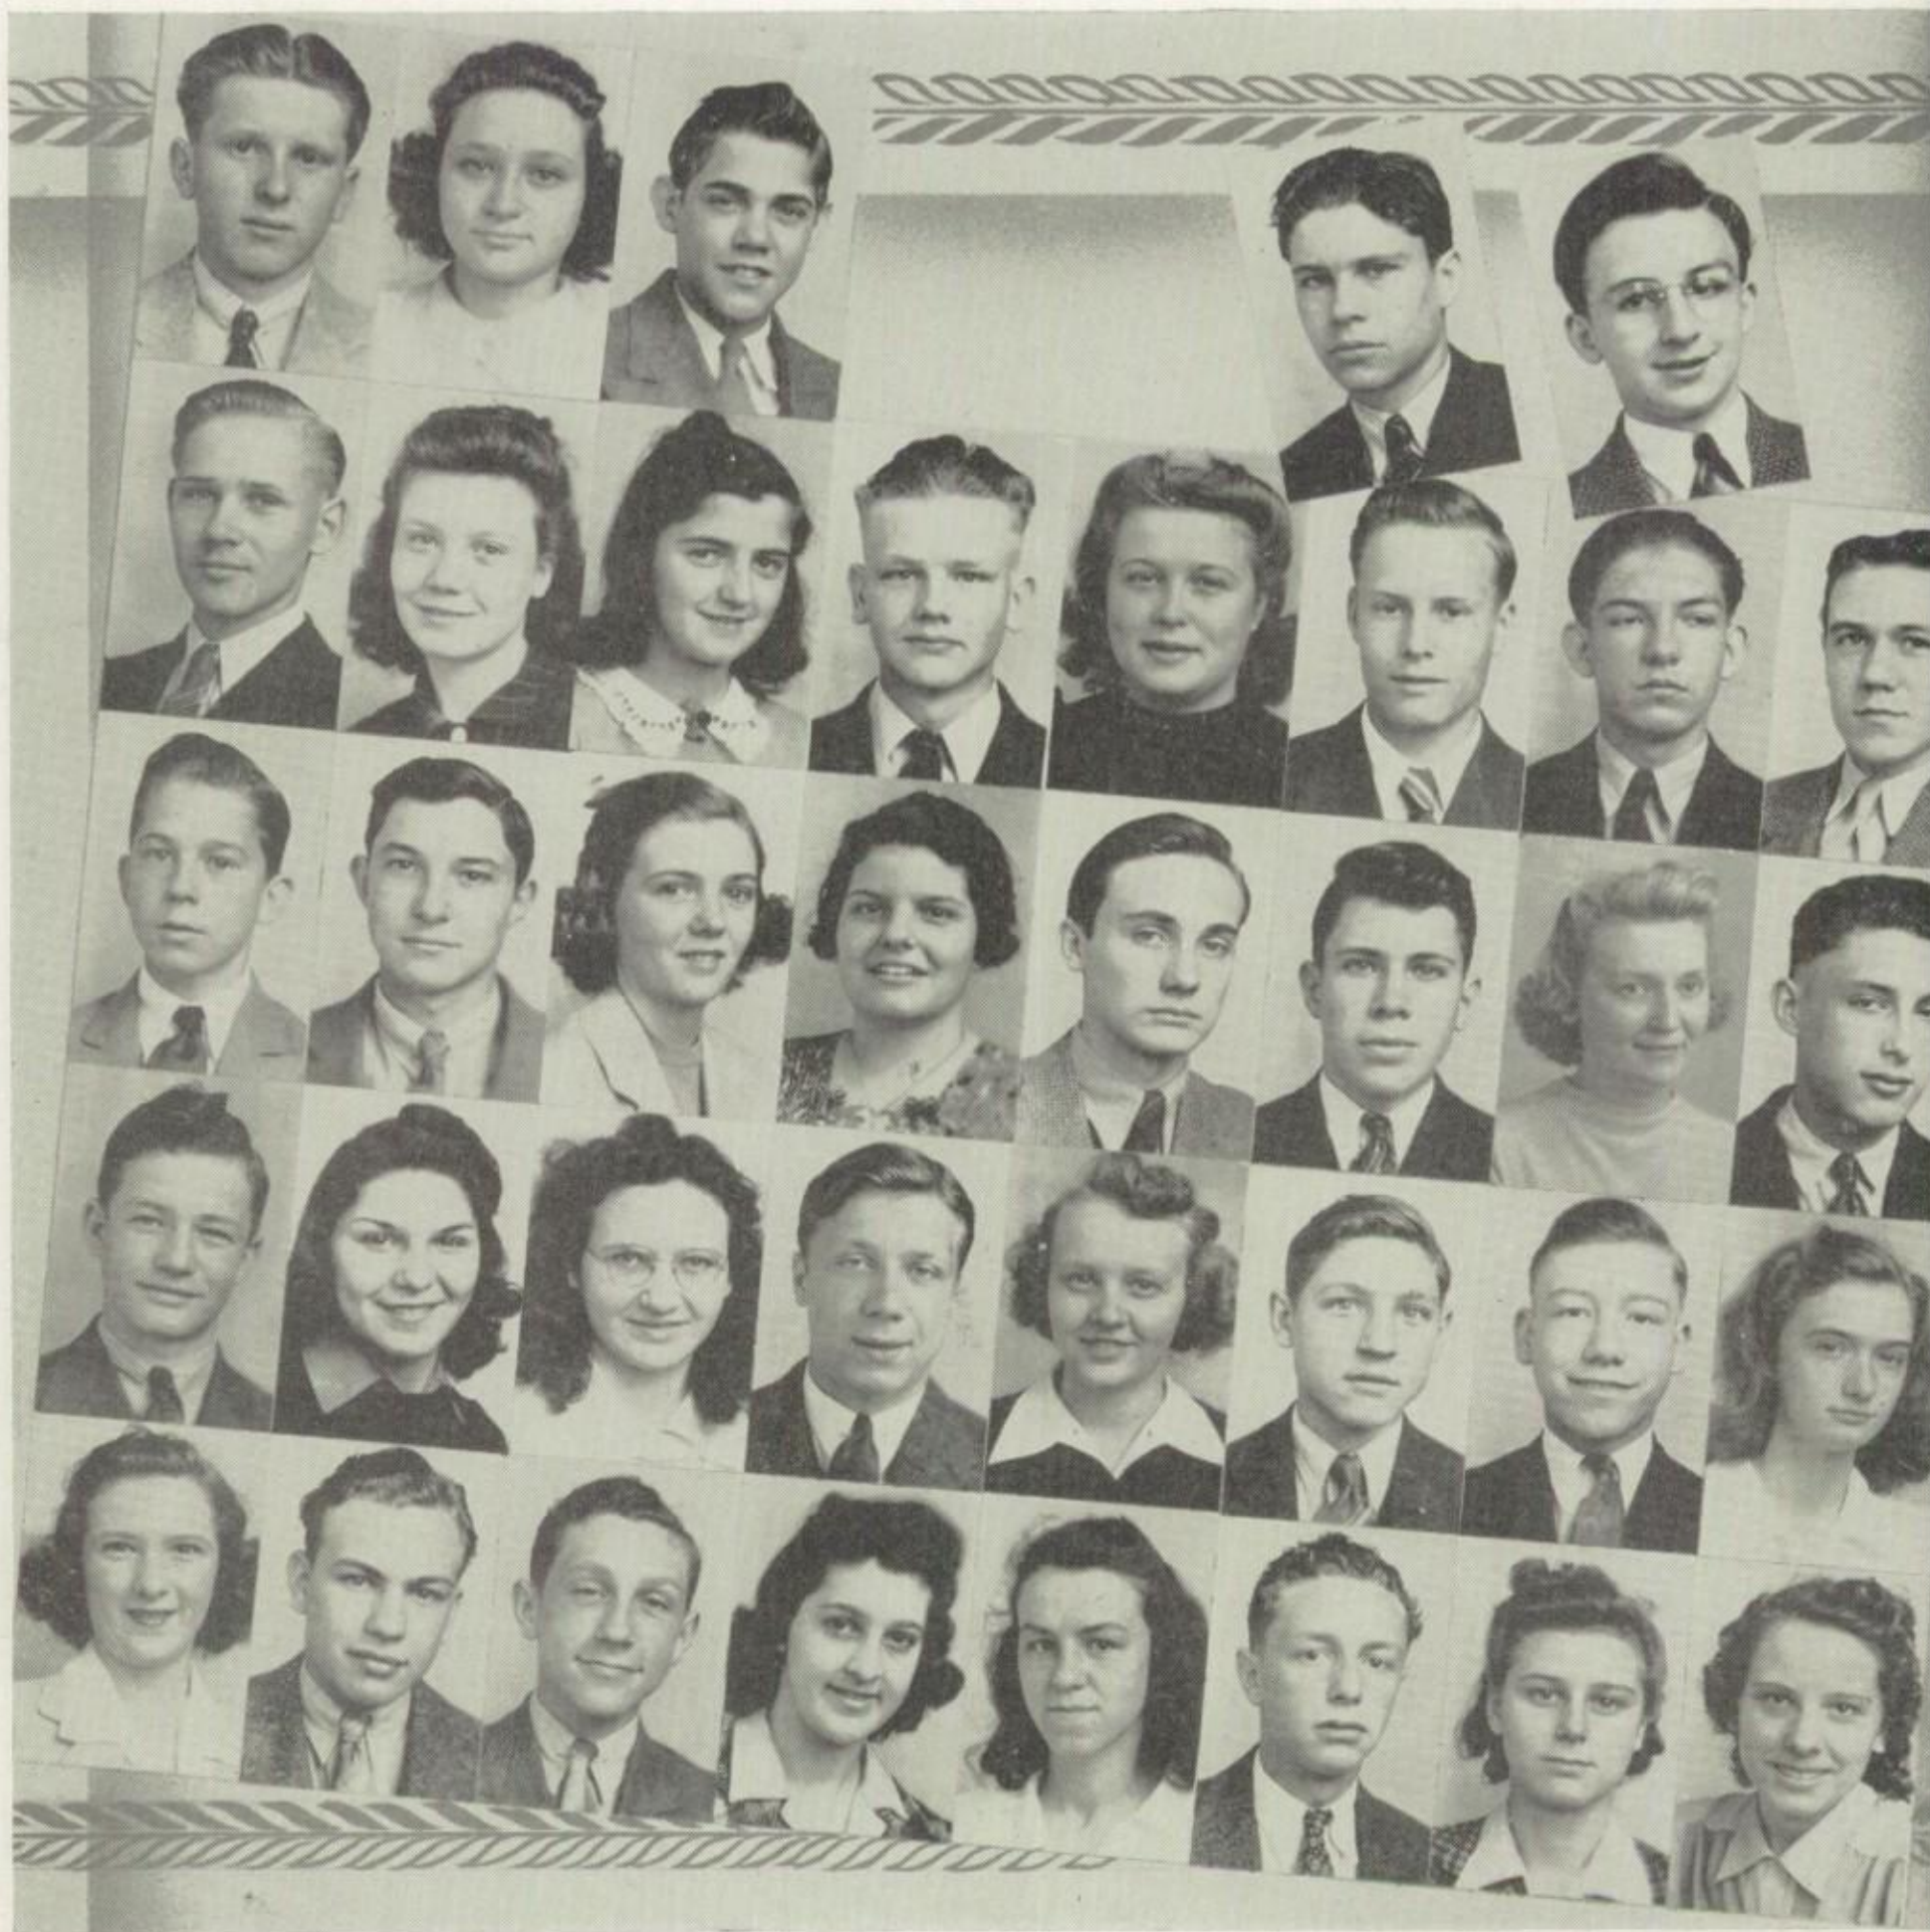

We pause—for a time; we review this last year; perhaps in part it holds some clue to the future. The students elected as class officers were: Bonnie King, President; Weseley Lamberson, Vice-President; Doris Cummins, Secretary; and Dick Johnson, Treasurer.

With February came the Junior play, "Little Miss Fortune" and the revealing of dramatic talent and group cooperation.

The Junior-Senior Banquet was held on one of the last nights in April with a surrounding atmosphere of apple blossoms and soft dance music.

One more year remains before this period of our lives shall pass and the curtain fall upon it. In this remaining time may we strengthen the foundations we have been eleven years in constructing, so that we may finally establish upon them high, aesthetic structures.

WE'RE MOBILIZIN

It is with a bit of apprehension and misgiving that I attempt to assemble the bits of our history which we have made in these two short years.

Indeed we feel that we would like to start anew and perhaps make a more colorful picture, but since fate declares otherwise, we humbly submit a few of our aims and accomplishments.

With our officers, Robert Storrer, James Connell, Betty Headley and Betty Critchfield we worked out a clever plan for collecting dues and meeting financial obligations.

Two of our members were named to the Student Council and assisted in providing entertainment and social relaxation for the school.

Carol Knecht and Rosalie Todd played well their part as cheerleaders and added pep and zest, when the team was broken in spirit or defeated in purpose.

In music and athletics we too have made our mark and are furnishing potential laurels for the future.

We acted as obedient servants to the Juniors on the occasion of their banquet to the Seniors and found much pleasure in making our debu't in this way.

As a class we have been aroused to the realization, that if we want to reflect credit upon ourselves and our school we must have worthy ideals, and a desire to broaden our minds in every way possible, if we are to be ready to face the world in peace or strife.

THE FLIGHT

Looking back over the past nine years we can remember our trepidation when we first started to school, and our pride when we began to get accustomed to our routine. As we advanced higher we continued to feel proud of our places in the school, and to acquire a vision of what education really means. Therefore we were gratified to learn early in the seventh year that we were to have a new school house, and endured the necessary hardships cheerfully, looking forward to the following year. As our reward we were the first eighth grade to graduate from the splendid new elementary building.

Last fall when we started into High School we experienced the same apprehension as when we started into the first grade. Although we felt out of place the consideration and friendliness that we received from both the teachers and upperclassmen soon made us feel a part of the high school. We held an election with the assistance of Mr.

Radenbaugh, our class adviser, and chose the following officers: President, Charles Cook; Vice-President, James Lykens; Secretary, Geraldine Greenman; Treasurer, Marjorie Kiley.

Besides our studies we have engaged in many extra-curricular activities. The Hi-Y, Girl Reserves, Latin League, F. H. A., F. F. A., Montpelier Band and Orchestra have claimed nearly all of our members. Some have gone in for athletics and some are musicians of talent. Now at the end of our first year in High School we have accustomed ourselves to the routine as we did earlier in the grade school. We feel that the eight years of preparation have not been in vain. As we advance to wider horizons we expect to use the knowledge we have gained to help us to the positions we must acquire. Through the years to come we shall fondly remember the experiences we have had and shall try to use them to the best of our ability.

—Delores Fackler.

We are deeply appreciative of the many expressions of kindness and good will that have been extended to us during the year and take this opportunity to express publicly our sincere thanks to those who had a part in making our Yearbook a success.

Especially do we remember the Administration for their interest and generosity in providing for a multitude of needs, the Business Men of the City for their co-operative spirit and financial aid, and to numerous organizations who have permitted us to serve them, including the Lions Club, Athletic Association, Williams County Achievement Club, Mobil Oil Company, and the Fair Board.

For special contributions and service we are indebted to Priest and Cook, Piddocks Grocery, City Laundry, Millers Dairy, Geeseys' Bakery, Kroger Co. and Hi-Speed Station, as well as to the many mothers and individuals who gave of their time and energy to assist us.

Statue of Liberty

“SYMBOLS OF FREEDOM”

Why do we, the young citizens of America, enjoy living in this beautiful “Land of Liberty?”

There are many reasons for this great enjoyment, but I think our greatest reason is because we are provided with so many instruments of “freedom.”

We are not merely free to worship as we desire, or to print the things we desire; but we are free to live our lives alone, without the dictates of a harsh selfish ruler.

One of the greatest instruments provided us by our country is our freedom in our public schools.

In practically every state in the union we have “free to all” education, although there is a few limitations in some states. All, students, however, are free to speak their own thoughts, choose the subjects they wish to study, and enter any activity they desire, not only this, but in order to make our schools more enjoyable we have various clubs, organizations, and musical groups.

Yet we are too lenient in our attitude toward all this freedom.

If we would stop and think of the unfortunate youth in the foreign war-torn countries I’m sure we’d appreciate and be more thankful for the “symbols of freedom given us in this “Land of the free and home of the brave.”

STUDENT COUNCIL FOLLOWS AMERICAN PLAN OF GOVERNMENT

Four years ago the Student Council was introduced to our school. It immediately became popular and the interest has grown until now it is one of the most important activities of the school.

The Student Council is a true example of the democratic principle of representation and is built upon the very foundation of the American way of government.

The purpose of the Student Council is to promote a stronger unity between the student body and the faculty.

In any organization government, business, and social, cooperation is a necessary factor. Through the efforts of the leaders and the cooperation of the entire group the most can be accomplished. The Student Council operates on this basis. Much of the success of the council is due to the splendid assistance of Mr. Shaffer, the adviser.

During the year of 1940 and 1941 the council has accomplished much for the benefit of the students. In the form of entertainment it has, with the help of a committee from the faculty, arranged a splendid array of movies and practical demonstrations which included (1) Liquid Air Demonstrations, (2) American Zoological Society trained birds, (3) Magician Philip Faxwell, (4) Movies: The Last of the Mohicans, The Ghost Goes West, and The Count of Monte Cristo. Dances were held by the council after the basketball games, which pleasantly broke the routine of a week's school work. The student body turned out to these programs to the fullest extent.

The council however has not been thinking only in the line of entertainment. Many problems of the school are brought up and discussed. It has always welcomed any suggestions by members of the student body.

The custom has been for the council of the succeeding year to improve over the preceding year and in this manner we have risen step by step on the ladder of progress.

The forward movement of this organization is to be comparable with American Civilization, ever striving for betterment.

I sincerely believe that the Student Council of the forthcoming year will live up to this tradition.

Joe Allen, President.

An Important Letter

DO UNTO OTHERS

There is something definitely lacking when any institution or society forgets to revere the name of the Savior of the world.

Perhaps we need a great spiritual awakening to make us worthy of victory and peace in the crisis of the nation.

Our own country was founded by a religious people, prepared to suffer for their beliefs; the right of liberty, liberty of worship and liberty of expression.

In emulation of this fortitude youth organizations have been founded that gospel instruction might be given to those not versed in religious doctrines.

Our Hi-Y organization has attempted to establish fortitude and courage which gives conviction beyond material things. It is challenging the evils that destroy the morale of Democracy today with "Clean Speech," "Clean Sports," "Clean Scholarship," and "Clean Living."

Our club has been very active the past year under the leadership of Mr. Shaeffer, who assisted us in securing speakers, who could inculcate the finest ideals of manhood. We, too solved many personal problems which made stronger our convictions to the worthwhile things of life.

Pleasure too was added in many ways and we close with a prayer that sometime we may chant with the world in ensemble that beautiful hymn, "Onward Christian Soldiers."

THE BINDER OF YEARS

Yes, it is necessary in an age of such varied interests, that we leave upon the records of time a definite account of our accomplishments.

Yearbooks were instituted for this purpose and we now are compiling the twenty-third volume of the "Mirror."

It is a pleasing bit of recreation to page through each of these reminders, and note how the American school has grown from the period of readin', 'riting, and 'rithmetic to an intricate curriculum of highly specialized courses.

A greater value however is realized by the students who have had a hand in making the book, for we have been initiated into a field of endeavor that is fast becoming Americas' leading profession—Journalism.

We have been technically trained in all the skills of composition and make-up and steeped in the etiquette of good business principles.

Too we have had the responsibility of securing sufficient finances to promote the project, which have given us added experience in various ways.

Our first project would have made many of our elders grow weak at heart I'm sure, for we had the temerity to run a concession stand at the fair, furnishing delicious lunches and refreshments to the motley crowds. The food was prepared and served by our own group, and we realized a neat sum for our efforts.

Next we were given concession rights for football games, and found much pleasure in serving athletic fans.

We were then invited to serve a formal banquet for the Lions club numbering 250 plates, which gave us experience a plenty in the techniques of proper serving and preparation of large quantities of food.

The County Tournament was next on the books and we served again to the basketball enthusiasts.

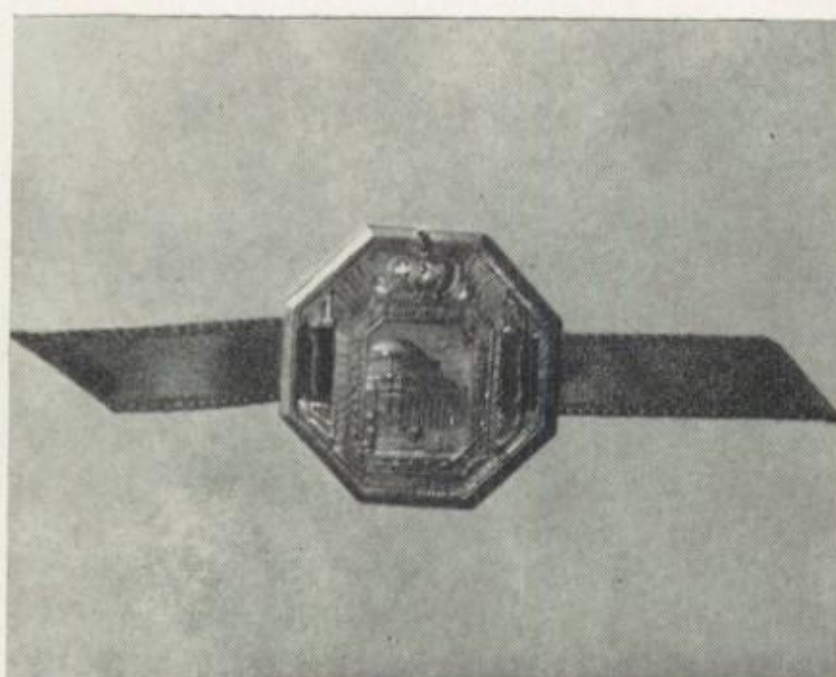

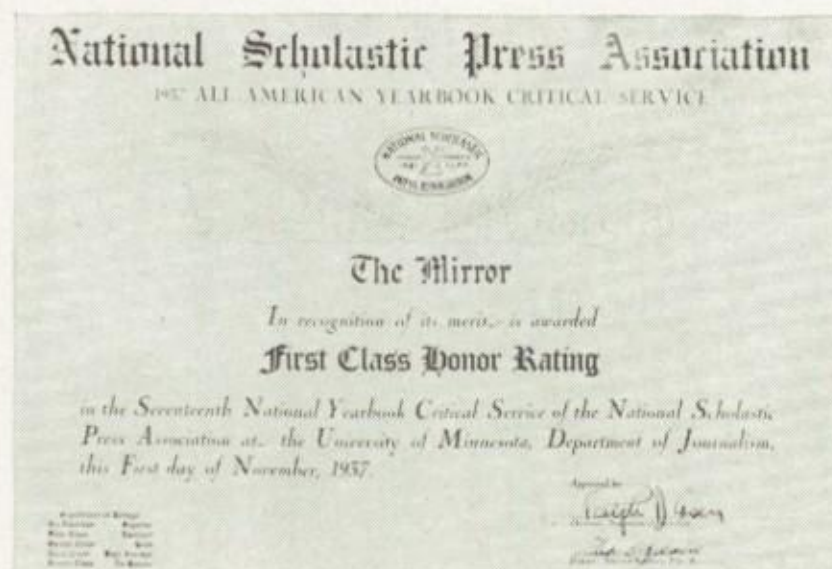

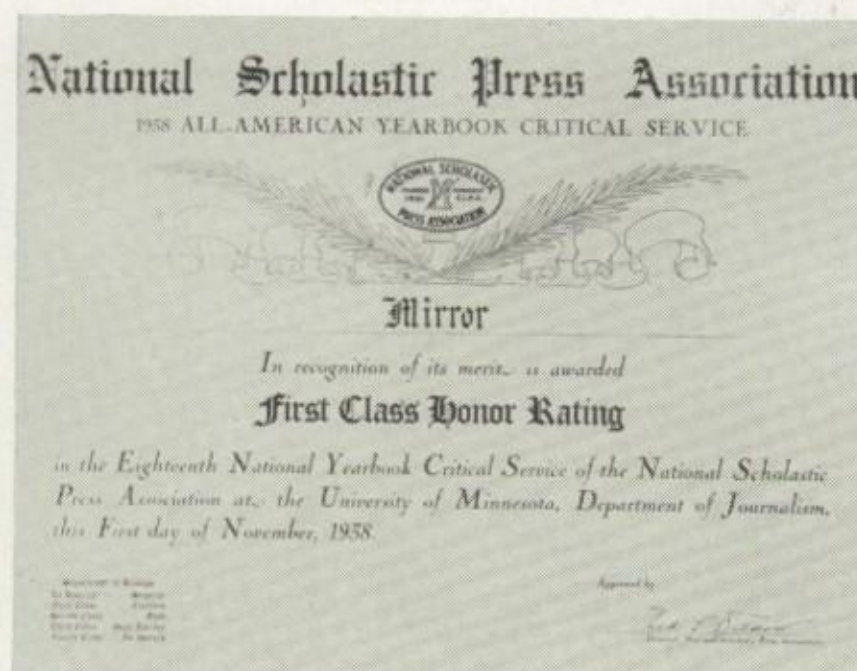

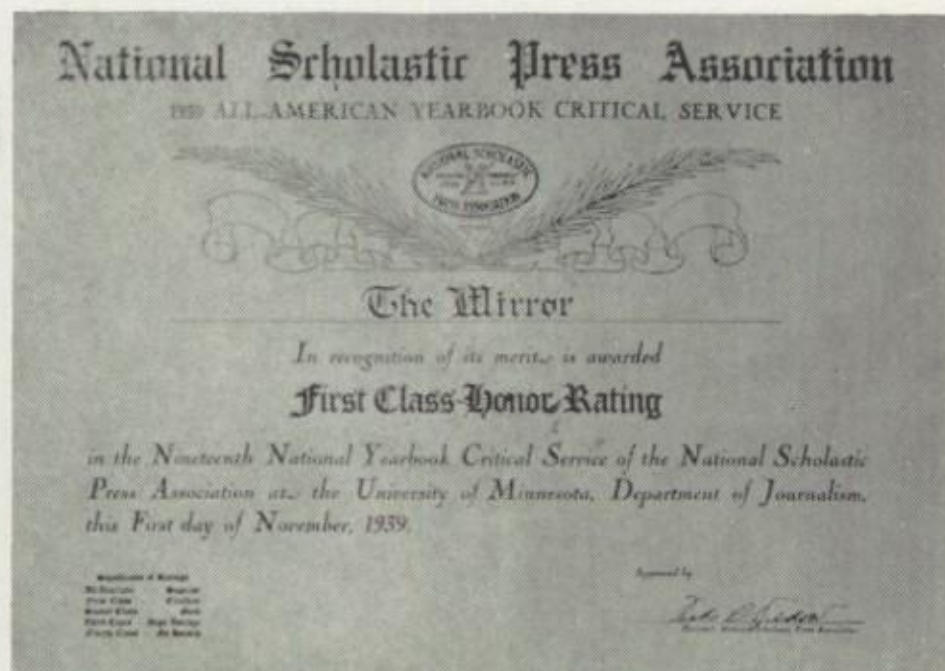

Our last venture in the culinary field was the serving of 200 women of the Williams County Achievement group at the noon hour, which took a tremendous amount of planning, that classroom work might not be disturbed.

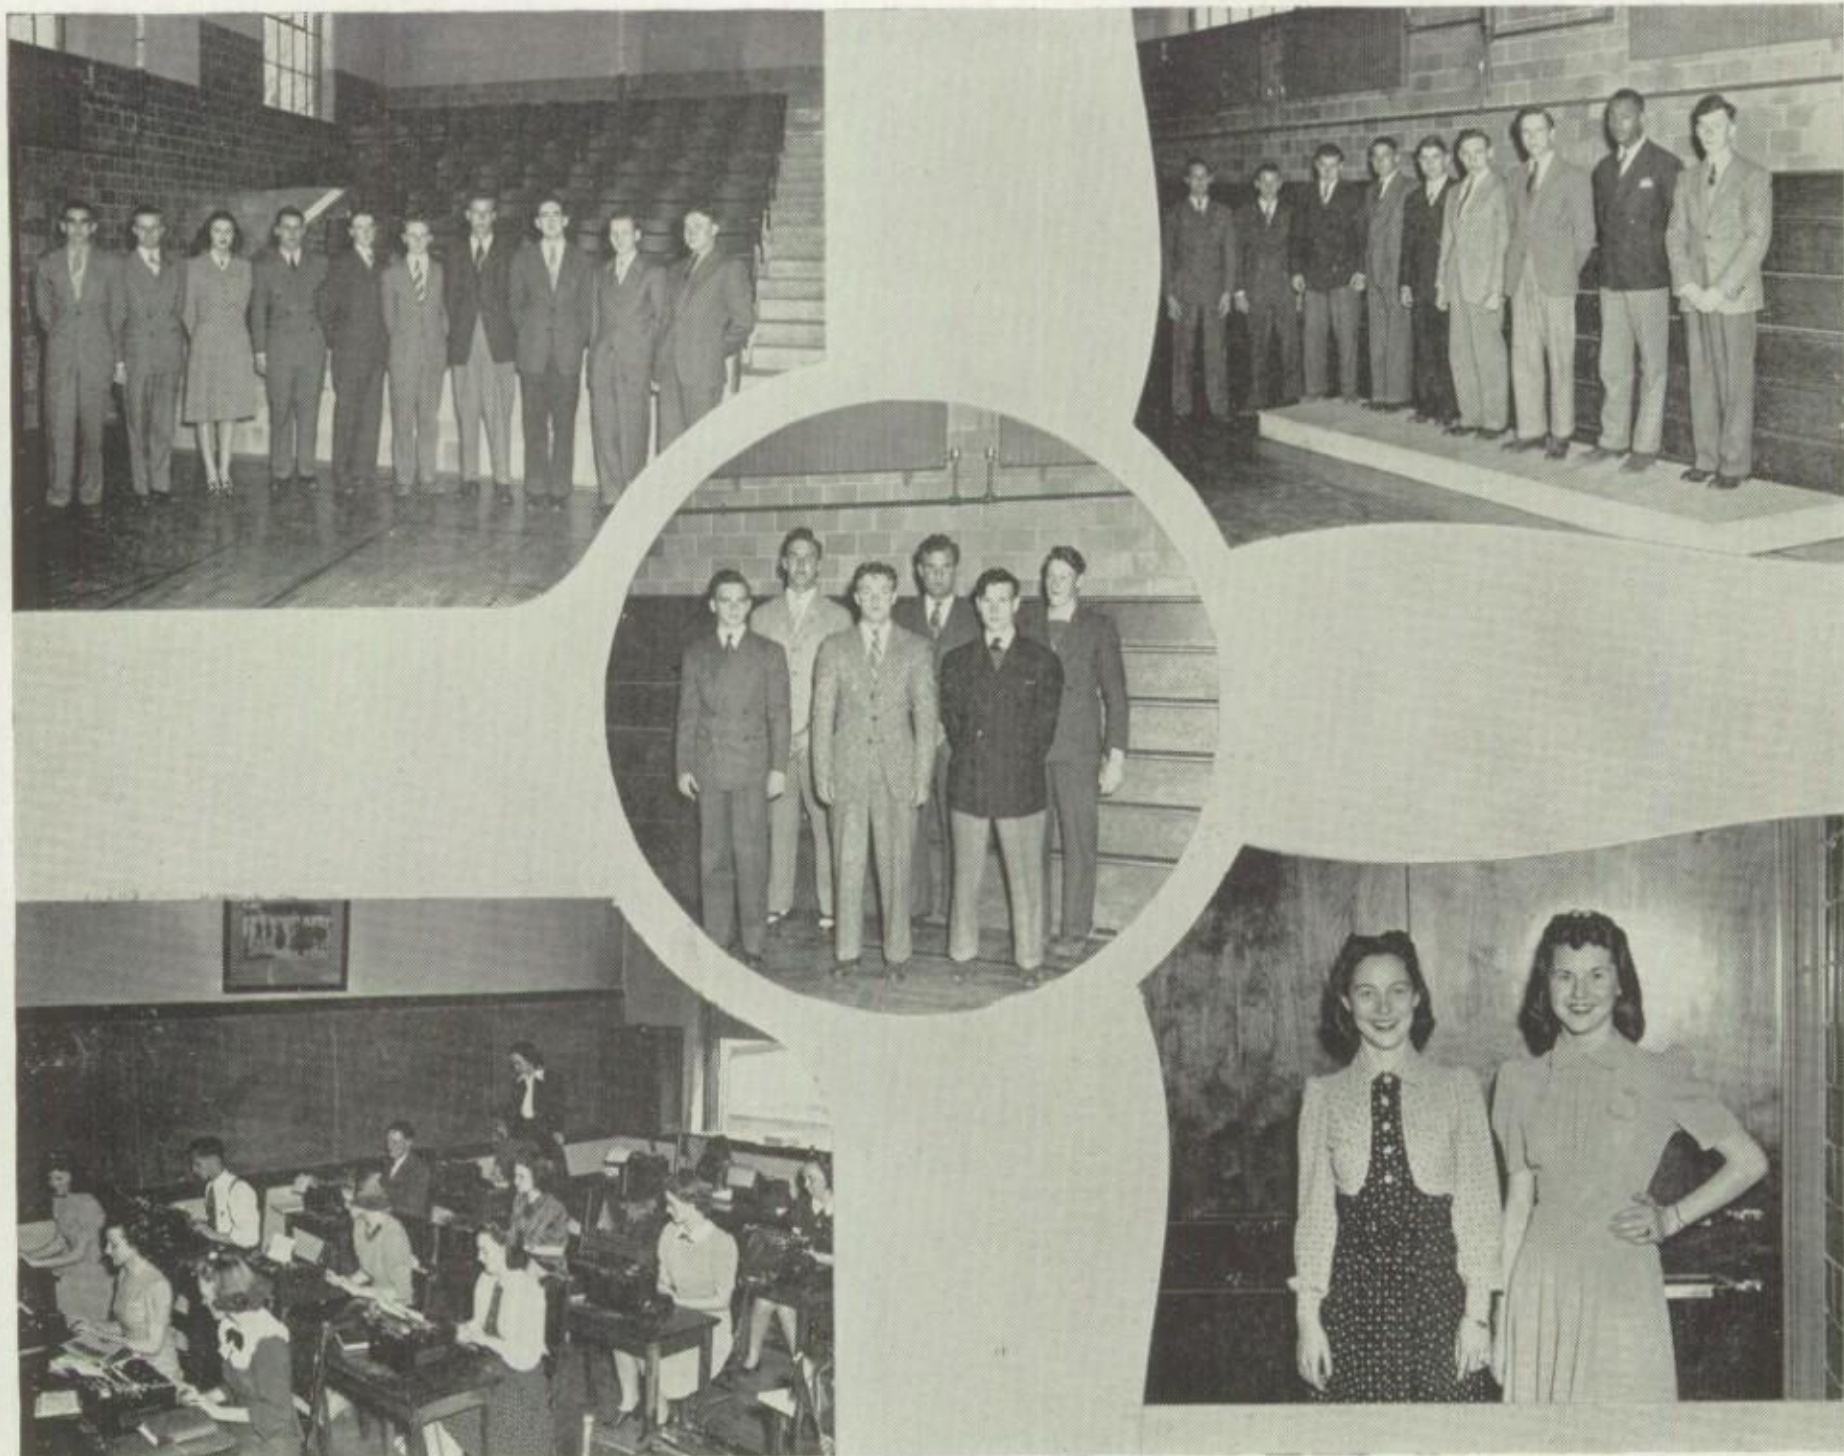

We feel that these responsibilities have broadened our scope of education materially, and have made us more dependable students in every way.

Our text-book of experience has been wide indeed and we can truthfully say it has been an experience worth while.

ASPIRING JOURNALISTS START SCHOOL PAPER

An additional activity and one much to be commended, was added to our calendar upon the appearance of school newspaper (The Hi-Line) sponsored by the Freshman class and directed by Miss Naylor.

This interesting news sheet was to provide an outlet for journalistic talent and stimulate greater interest in activities of the school by publicising special events and happenings.

First we were ill-equipped to proceed along very definite lines and I'm certain our first edition was fearfully and wonderfully made? (Just imagine asking Mr. Newton to work elsewhere while we monopolized his desk, and inveigled Mr. Shaeffer to help run the mimeograph while someone else folded or stapled together the sheets of paper. Yes we had most everything in sight branded with printers ink or stacked with discarded paper.

A sales campaign found our subscribers equally divided between townspeople and students, thus we realized that our paper must please the public and contain interesting data for all its readers.

It has been an experience worthy of emulation, and we take this opportunity of thanking the faculty for their kind indulgence in our whims, to Miss Naylor for her definite planning, ready advice, and long hours of labor spent in the promotion of our interests, and to the staff who worked faithfully and energetically to materialize ideas.

We have worked whole-heartedly to give our best and trust that you have found some pleasure in scanning the pages of the Hi-Line.

James Pace, Editor.

THE TRAMP OF MARCHING FEET

Dean Kannel, Director

In the very soul of humanity there seems to be embedded a desire to keep time with music. We note suddenly at the sound of the drum beat, people will pause in their labor or rush to the street to inform themselves of the occasion.

The music program stresses pupil appreciation through singing, listening lessons and emphasis on the fundamentals of rhythm. Orchestra, bands and small ensembles are organized in all high schools, where free instruction is provided—these students furnishing in return many enjoyable programs for civic activities.

The radio has been an indispensable aid to the rise and appreciation of music, by bringing to the home and the school accomplishments of other musical groups.

Our own school band presents a beautiful spectacle on the football field or in the ranks, clad in artistic uniforms of blue and white; and led by a most charming and graceful drum major, supported by twirlers and mascot.

Too we have participated in numerous events, having paraded at the American Legion convention at Toledo and other patriotic rallies.

We played well our part in the District-Music contest held at Ada, Ohio, and claimed five first honors out of seven entries.

TWIRLING CORPS

Doris Brown, Betty Brim, Elenora Krisher, Ila Jump, Hester Welch, Geraldine Greenman, Bonnie Brown, Frances Pushee

The same group with the addition of a trumpet solo by James Slagle, appeared at the Tri-State Music contest held at Fort Wayne, Ind., and again captured honors by winning all first division ratings, with two additional firsts in piano by Edward Connell and saxophone by William Welsh.

We were unfortunate in being barred from the state contest because of rigid requirements.

Our year's work culminated in a band concert held on the eve of March 21, and directed by D. B. Kannel.

THE GODS WERE GOOD

Music has been said to be language of the soul, and rightly so, for through it man expresses his joys and sorrows whether it be through a Wagnerian opera or a simple folk song. No school curriculum is complete without music and a great many of our high school students have taken advantage of the instruction offered.

With the passing of another year the Glee Clubs have gained the approval of all: First, through the cooperation of the whole membership and second, through the competent manner in which our instructress, Leone Saxton, has trained and uncovered in many, here-to-fore hidden talent. Much credit is due Miss Saxton who in just the one year with us has succeeded in producing two well trained choirs in gaining the respect of all her students.

It is to be observed that the membership of the Girls Glee Club is probably one of the largest in the history of the school. Such a large group is at times unwieldy but the success of the year is proof that it can be done.

As is common in most organized groups there are the few who excel in that particular field of the group. Our Girls Glee Club is no exception to the above in that, the year brought to light a trio and a quintet which made several successful appearances including the American Legion Banquet, a P. F. A. meeting, and the annual musical.

The maxim, "Not as large as the largest, but as strong as the strongest," could indeed be applied to the Boys' Glee Club for although limited in numbers, they are strong in spirit. Included in the repertoire of the boy's organizations are: The Japanese Sandman, Stout Hearted Men, Strike Up the Band, and On the Road to Mandalay.

At the annual Spring Musical sponsored by the P. F. A. both clubs made successful appearances. The musical highlight of the season, however, was the operetta presented by both the boys and girls glee clubs. It was a clever musical comedy entitled, "The Pirates of Penzance" by the two Englishmen Gilbert and Sullivan.

It is hoped that future glee clubs have the enjoyment, and success as experienced by the members of both organizations this year.

“PIRATES OF PENZANCE”

It was our good fortune to have in our ranks a number of students that were indeed talented and who mobilized their talents in producing the famous operetta “Pirates of Penzance.” The operetta is a Gilbert and Sullivan production and rated as one of their most noted.

The setting of the operetta was artistically laid and displayed a beautiful seaside scene at the coast of Cornwall.

The plot of the “Pirates of Penzance” centers around Frederick, who by a drastic mistake of his nurse, was apprenticed to the pirates instead of to a pilot of a boat as had been directed by his father. The pirates captured the great Major-General and his many daughters. Frederick falls in love with Mabel, a daughter of the Major-General. He plans to break with the pirates as he is twenty-one but finds that his birthday is on the twenty-ninth day of February and thus literally he is only a little boy of five. Frederick realizes that he cannot ask Mabel to marry him until he has broken bondage with such infamous gentlemen; so he plans to claim her in the far future after he has attained the age of twenty-one. However, the pirates fell madly in love with the Major-General’s daughters and gave up their careers as cut-throats and betook themselves to civilization to marry the girls.

The principal characters were as follows: Frederick, Eugene King; Major-General, John Firestone; King of the Pirates, Gilbert Shoemaker; Ruth, the nurse, Ann Pace; Mabel, Ann Rothenberger; Sergeant of Police, James Connell; Samuel, the piratical lieutenant, James Soutar; the three sisters, Margaret Stainthorpe, Doris Doenges, Doris Cummins; and assisted by the Boys’ and Girls’ Glee Clubs as the chorus.

MORE NEED FOR LATIN

Never before in the history of human relations has there been so much need for an understanding of more than one language.

By virtue of invention and scientific research, we communicate daily with foreign countries in carrying out business projects and endeavors.

Particularly because of war conditions and the instability of many foreign powers it behooves our own nation to train in a large measure those who will be needed in the diplomatic field as well as those who will shoulder the responsibility of rebuilding a new era in human history.

Latin naturally is the basic language to be studied in the preparation of work in European fields and we feel that Montpelier has planned well in this field, and will be able to furnish potential timber for tomorrows' building.

FRANCE OF TODAY

The members of the French Club of 1941, enjoyed their year under the direction of Mr. Faben immensely. The program for the year found as its theme, "France Today," which proved most interesting and advantageous.

The purpose of the French Club is to further acquaint the students with the use of every day French and to instill in them a definite desire to learn to speak it fluently.

For our enjoyment we rehearsed a little French play which was one more step in enabling us to better understand French as spoken in the late France.

The students who were elected to lead the club were: President, Ann Rothenburger; Vice-President, Helen Cummins; Secretary, Marjorie Best; and Treasurer, Ruth Newman.

The necessary funds were raised through a bake sale.

The last meeting was, as has been the custom, a party, which was seemingly enjoyed by all.

to help brighten their holiday and at Christmas time the Girl Reserve together with the Hi-Y gave a Chapel Program.

Several of the girls attended an all day conference at Delta. There they met other Girl Reserve members and learned of the achievements of various clubs. The Girl Reserve and Hi-Y entertained the school with a "dress up" dance. Music was furnished by the High School Orchestra and everyone spent an enjoyable evening. The high light of our program was the spring formal banquet given in honor of our Mothers.

The Girl Reserves have had a successful year because they have stood together and worked hand in hand.

—Nancy Todd, President.

GIRL RESERVE CONFERENCE

The Annual Convention of the Girl Reserves of Northwestern Ohio was held at Delta on March 29. From Montpelier there was a delegation of seven girls accompanied by the adviser, Miss Cotterell and Miss Braithwaite. We were welcomed by Elizabeth Soule, president of N. W. G. R. Conference. Each school represented gave their clubs' accomplishments for the year, from which we gained new suggestions for our club. Highlights of the convention were Betty Lehman's inspiring review of her experiences at the Youth Conference in Holland where she found that all the young people of the world look to Christ for the answer of youth's problems, and an impressive candle light service conducted by the Wauseon Girl Reserves.

—Marjorie Best.

INITIATION SERVICE

The Girl Reserves on November 13, 1940, held an impressive candle light initiation service for all new members wishing to unite with our society of Christian womanhood. The officers led by President, Nancy Todd, with tall, lighted candles ascended the stage, sending forth the light of purity. One by one the girls approached and lit their small candles which gave them the beginning of more Christian prosperity. They formed a circle and with the candle light glowing in their faces they solemnly repeated the Girl Reserve pledge. Each one arose to the heights of the circle of friendship in reverence to God. Thus the new members with the old are lighting the path for younger girls to follow in their footsteps for greater womanhood.

THE FARMER IS THE FATHER OF HIS COUNTRY

In the Montpelier school system there is one vocational course for farm boys. This course being Vocational Agriculture. Vocational Agriculture enables boys to become better farmers and helps start them in farming in their four years of study.

When students enter this course they automatically become F. F. A. members. As freshmen they study crops; as sophomores, livestock and farm shop. They learn of the origin of different breeds of animals, their diseases, cures and preventions. In the shop they have a fine set of equipment. They learn to use their hands as well as their minds by taking up woodworking and metal work. The junior year becomes more difficult, in the field of farm engineering. This phase of farm machinery, electricity, plumbing and mechanical drawing. The senior year is the most interesting, this being Farm Management and Soils.

Nine seniors namely: Harley Deisler, Herbert Rockey, Leon Altaffer, Leon Shoup, Robert Handy, Lester Miller, Howard Bradley, David Briner and Roland Lattanner will complete their four year agriculture course this year.

We find this course invaluable in the sense of the training which we receive so as to enable us to maintain our standards as successful Future Farmers of America.

—Roland Lattanner.

"CONSERVATION"

During the year of 1939-40 the Montpelier chapter won the first place trophy for the second year in the conservation contest conducted in the schools of Williams County. Valuable prizes were awarded to high scoring individuals from each school. Montpelier members won the two grand prizes. These prizes were awarded at the 1940 banquet which was held at the West Unity High School Gymnasium.

Our chapter received second award in the State conservation contest.

The conservation league strives to preserve and maintain wildlife through conservation of soil, trees, and water.

Members of our chapter did conservation work, tree planting, cover and food for wildlife, and predator and pest control.

The 1940-41 banquet was held at the Stryker High School Gymnasium on May 6, 1941. Our chapter received the second place trophy. The ten high scoring individuals were Harley J. Diesler, Jr., Junior Cogswell, Roland Lattanner, Elgie Stickney, John Krill, Earl Davis, Val Connolly, Chester McKarns, Elmer Tressler, and Carmon Thorp. We hope to continue with a still better program in the coming year.

—Harley J. Deisler, Jr.

DEGREES AWARDED

On October 8, 1940, eighteen boys were given the Green Hand Degree thus taking them into the organization of The Future Farmers of America, and on March 17, seven Green Hands were given the Future Farmer Degree. In order to receive this degree, you must have earned and productively invested at least twenty-five dollars and successfully completed one year of Vocational Agriculture.

The highest degree obtained in F. F. A. work was won by Carl Creek, Jr., last fall when he received the American Future Farmer Degree. Only eight boys received this degree in the state last year. These boys must be outstanding in farming ability, scholarship, thrift and leadership.

—David Briner.

LIVESTOCK JUDGING

Last spring we sent judging teams to Columbus to compete for high honors. By the process of elimination our team was selected.

Last year, Earl Davis, Ned Grogg, and Marion Lee represented us in the general livestock judging. Eldon Mocherman, Ned Grogg and Marion Lee in dairy cattle judging. Earnest Tressler represented us in the sheep judging. The dairy team placed in the upper third of their group. We plan to be represented again this year.

—Robert W. Handy.

CORN HUSKING CONTEST

On November 9, 1940, the F. F. A. County Corn Husking Contest was held at the J. F. Bauer farm. There were six schools competing in the contest. West Unity placed first and Howard Bradley of Montpelier placed second. Howard husked the most corn but deductions were large enough that his net amount placed him second.

—Herbert Rockey.

F. F. A. TRIP

In August of 1940, twenty-one members of our F. F. A. chapter together with our adviser,

Mr. Morse took a five day camping trip through southern Ohio and Kentucky. We visited many points of interest such as Fort Ancient and the work of the mound builders, Fort Knox and the gold depository, Mammoth Cave, Lincoln's Birthplace, Renfro Valley Barn Dance, and on the way home we spent a day at the Ohio State fair. This trip was very interesting from the view point of education as well as a vacation.

We have planned a trip to Nigara Falls for this coming summer.

—Leon Shoup.

PARENT AND SON BANQUET

The annual banquet of the Montpelier chapters of the F. F. A. and F. H. A. was held in the high school gymnasium on December 11, 1940. The parents of the members were invited and a fun-filled evening was enjoyed by all. Leon Shoup told of the summer trip which was taken through Kentucky, and Harley Deisler told about the Pest Hunt which the local chapter won.

Mr. H. E. Dean, secretary of the Williams County Conservation league and Mr. K. N. Morse were given honorary degrees. Mr. Perry Faulkner was the guest speaker and the talk which he presented was very interesting.

—Leon Altaffer.

IT'S A LIFETIME JOB FOR MOST GIRLS

Future Homemakers should breathe a prayer of thankfulness that they live in an age that has broken the shackles of human slavery, and freed women from the drudgery common to the housewife of old.

Education has been provided in Home-making, where food preparation, clothing construction and cleaning form basic material for instruction.

Home Economics has expanded into an applied art and science integrates many of the more or less abstract ideas in such fields as sociology, economics, chemistry and biology, so that they function in life-like and personal situations.

Personal and family budgets, child care, problems of diet, and community relationships are of first interest in this newer concept.

Each girl is required to materialize four projects during the year and demonstrate in a practical way her ability in the field chosen.

A high spot in the year's activity was the privilege of attending the Sectional F. H. A. Conference at Napoleon. Here we exchanged many ideas, and found first hand what other clubs were doing, even to the point of giving degree work. Our adviser and two club members attended the State Conference and brought glowing accounts of the accomplishments of Home-makers in other parts of the state.

We joined with the Future Farmers in giving a formal banquet to our parents, that they might become better acquainted with the nature of our work and have a privilege of meeting our instructors.

During the summer we aim to take an excursion to some point of interest, and last season decided to visit the Post Cereal factory at Battle Creek, Mich. The trip was delightful and we learned much concerning the making of cereals.

Twenty-nine of our members were eligible for the first degree work of our organization and were named "Little Women" of Future Home-makers of America.

The crowning event of the year was a formal tea and Style Show honoring the mothers.

Refreshments of tiny sandwiches, cakes and tea faultlessly served in a picturesque setting of spring blossoms, gave mute testimony that the girls of today are well prepared for any emergency tasks.

DEMOCRACY'S CHAMPIONS

The public gradually is realizing that the current defense program is no mere exercise or drill practice; it is a race against time to make sure that this country survives. Schools, churches, and patriotic organizations are working untiringly to educate the public in the importance of national unity.

Those who have already answered the call for defense may well be named "Democracy's Champions" for the greatest single act of an individual is to give up life for his country. We must be on guard everlastingly that our people may enjoy the many advantages which we now possess.

Should we not then champion the cause for a greater and more powerful military program which so long ago was voiced by Washington in his farewell address, "That timely disbursements to prepare for danger frequently prevent much greater disbursements to repel it."

Our school has already featured greatly in this program, by giving many of its alumni, as well as one of its faculty members. Mr. J. E. Bower, instructor in Science for the past four years is now with the Army Air Corps at Coral Gables, Florida.

Mr. D. V. Swanson, former teacher, is a major in the U. S. Army at Camp Knox, Kentucky.

Another who is a native of our community and nationally publicized is Tommy Roberts, a mountain guide in Colorado, who upon his admission into service was first relieved of his long curly locks.

A misfortune that gave many of our community first hand knowledge of the destruction that can be wrought by air was witnessed when a huge army plane piloted by Lieut. Marriman from Selfridge field, Detroit, was forced down near the city limits.

Yes, we are answering the call of democracy.

—John Childers.

THE GREATEST SINGLE SLICE OF THE AMERICAN MARKET

Sports are today a very essential factor in human life, for along with work there must be play and relaxation.

Millions of people are "sport" minded and if not actually, exercising themselves, are tuning in on radios to catch the latest baseball reports or track scores. Schools on every hand strive to furnish eligible competitors for every line of activity, with vain hopes that they may succeed in furnishing a star for the national league.

For years we have been hearing about the athletic prowess of this nation. Of our supremacy in nearly all fields of sinewy endeavor. We have been reading of the ever increasing spread of our devotion to sport, to boxing, football, baseball, basketball and lately to skiing and the like of that. We have been enthralled by the feats of our chest beaters of the golf course and tennis courts. Yet we are amazed and stupified when we learn that in the present defense program that authorities consider the draft age too high at 35 and are talking of dropping it to the mid-twenties, because the army has found much of the material sent to it for stuffing uniforms a bit shopworn and unsuited for army purposes.

It gives us a feeling of sad disillusionment that Herculean power should so soon crumble and we realize for the first time that physical conditioning is a part and a necessary part of our educational training.

—Harry Robinson, Sports Manager.

GRIDIRON DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

The first day of September found 40 anxious recruits, ready to serve on the 1941 squad and eventually win a place on the team.

After two weeks of strenuous practice Coach Bliss charted an attack with Hicksville, a strong husky team. The time and season were right for a real skirmish, but the Locomotives emerged victorious.

With such a fine start, and increased pep we were anxious to match our strength with Napoleon, the first league game, the following week. We were perhaps over-confident and found our opponents warriors to the last man, and defeat written on our scoreboard.

The next scheduled date was with Lakeside, and we practiced long and furiously that we might correct our previous mistakes, but again our team was no match for the powerful defenders of the gridiron and when the final gun barked our score was indeed a sad disappointment.

The Wauseon Indians were our next opponents, and a real game of football was staged—with exciting plays, and breath-taking maneuvers for every quarter, we at least entertained the fans—even if defeat was again written on our scoreboard.

Another strong team booked for a clash was South High School at Lima, and here we got our first experience at playing in a large stadium where events were broadcast, and a collegiate air prevailed. This was indeed a rich experience, but sad tidings for the home fans for we were again forced to kneel to our opponents.

The game of games was next to be played with our friendly rivals, on the home field. The stadium was crowded, and we seemed to have a feeling of fear as the Bears turned upon us, for we could see written on their season's scoreboard a no-defeat record, chalked up by veteran players. The losers' complex seemed to take hold of our men, while the Bears tossed the ball for victory.

Liberty Center was our next visitor, and we had hoped that we might yet have a chance to make our home folks proud of us—but try as hard as we might we had to acquiesce to our opponents.

Our next game with Sylvania was cancelled because of weather conditions—and we faced for the last duel, the strong hard-fitting team of Defiance. Naturally after a washout season most everyone conceded the game before we started and we finished the 1940 season still below the zero line.

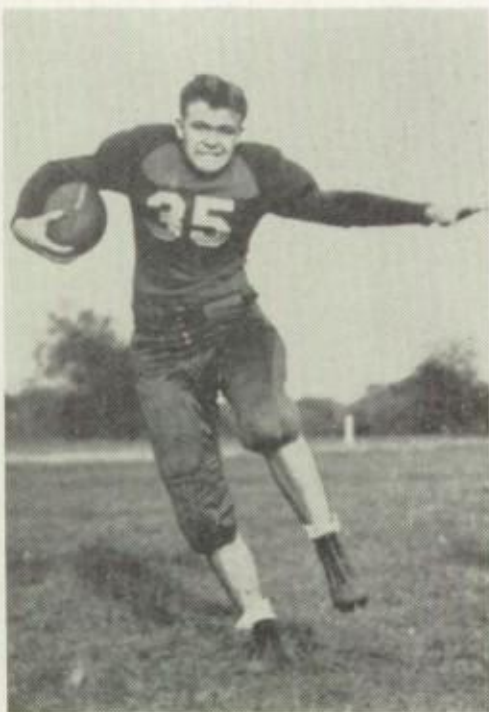

Since the final history has been written, we hope that our record will not blacken the future, but be a stimulus for our followers to prepare themselves mentally and physically for this great American game, —Willard Allen, Captain.

Instructions between halves

FOOTBALL PERSONALITIES

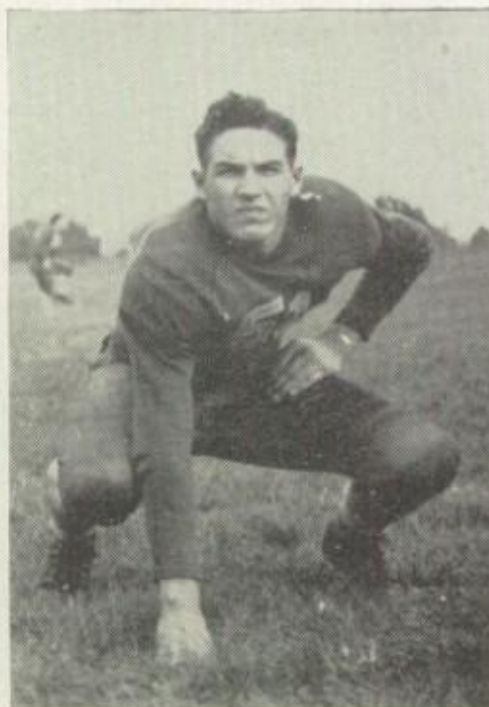

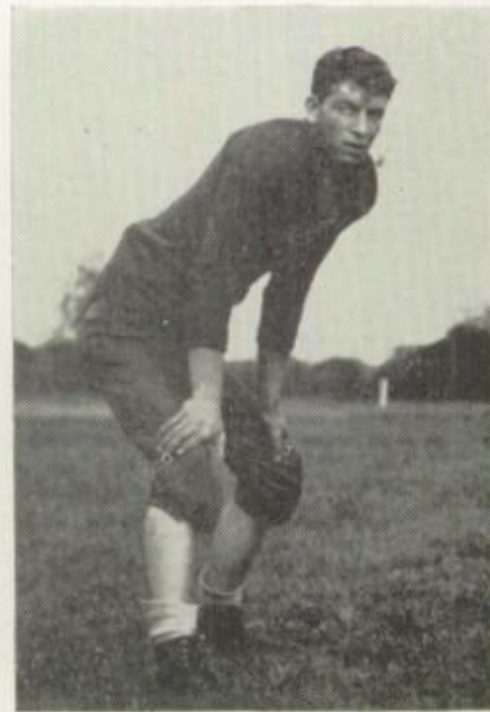

WILLARD ALLEN

Injuries handicapped our brilliant captain this year. Besides being captain he also commanded our squad through many tight spots as quarterback.

JUNIOR SAPP

Junior held down one end position for four successful years. He is a shifty boy, possesses considerable speed and a hard hitter.

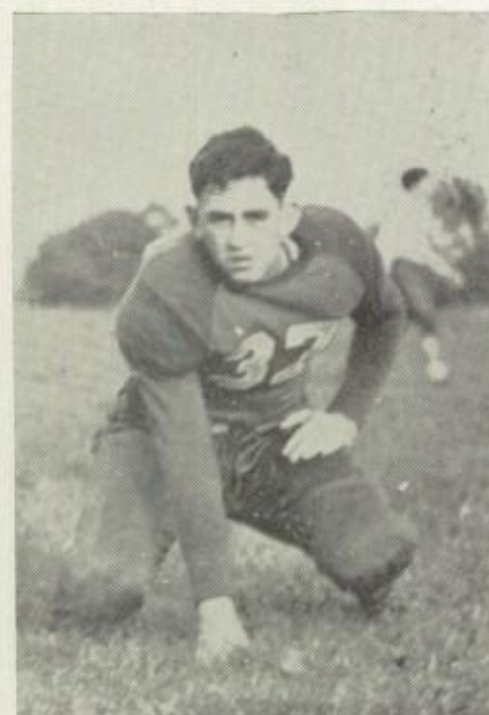

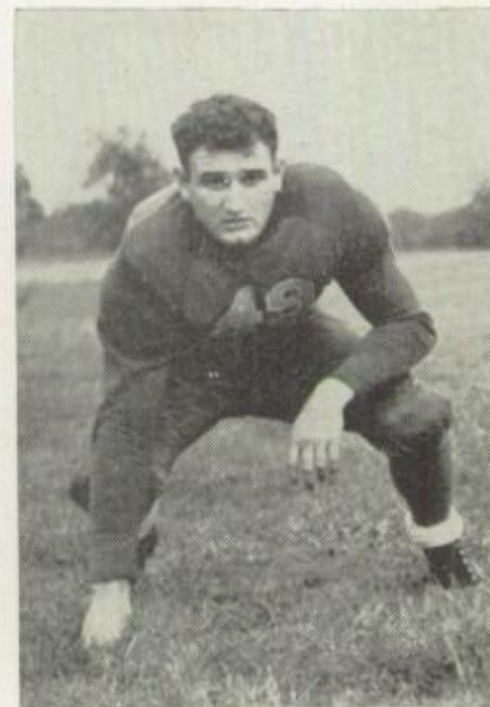

HARRY ROBINSON

Harry's force and ability to stop that ball carrier saved many a game. He is a great man on the line and is well liked by all the team for his spirit.

RAY JUMP

Ray returned to Montpelier High from Columbus, and became a great asset to the team. He filled the position of right tackle with much success. A hard hitting, steady driver who can hold his own.

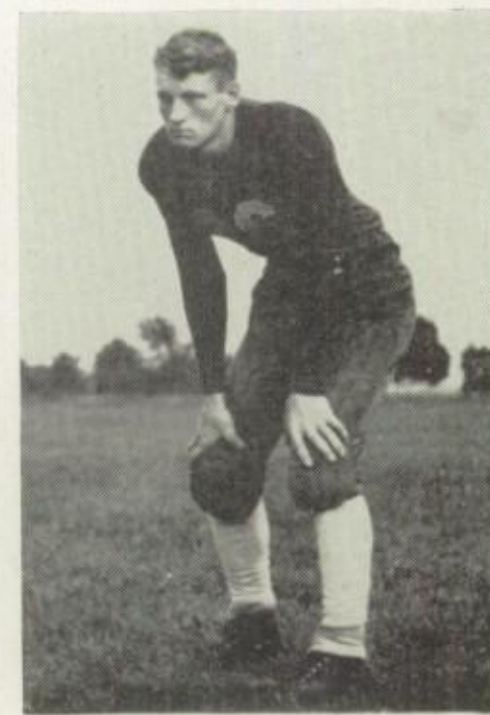

RUSSELL PRIEST

Russell filled guard position to the best of his ability. He has a fighting heart and his team spirit was one not easily surpassed.

ROBERT MILLER

Bob held out on us until his last year then he came out for football and made a great showing. He is a speedy, hard hitting end and pulls balls down with terrific ease.

Played in at tackle. He is a good lines man with bull-dog determination, and he can hold his place.

HAL COOK

Our smallest man with comet speed left many opposing men with nothing but air to tackle. Hal played at half back.

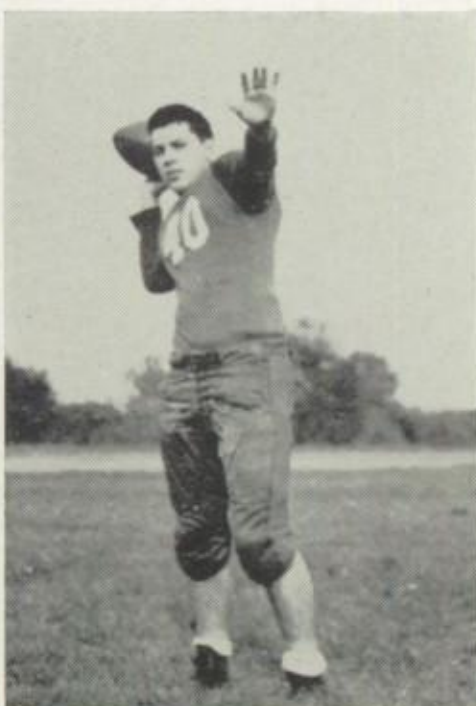

BOB SHEPARD

Bob was one of our hard driving shifty hipped, crafty halfbacks. His determination and intelligence helped to gain precious yardage.

JOE SUMMERS

Many opponents found Joe to be stable when they tried to move him out of his post at guard.

LEE POWERS

Being a hard hitting, quick thinking, pile driving fullback was Lee's booth this year.

JUNIOR STRAUSSER

Junior matched determination and grit with a never-die spirit.

—Randolph White.
Wayne Churchman.

JOHN CHILDERS, Captain

A sure shot from the side, he played his guard position well, and was strong on both offensive and defensive playing. For his ability Johnny was chosen Honorary Captain.

When the 1940-41 basketball season got underway the team felt it could best express its appreciation and thanks for the fine new gymnasium by molding itself into a winning organization.

The complete failure of the team to develop into a power and thus fulfill its aim cannot be credited to anyone event.

FINE FEATHERS DO NOT MAKE FINE BIRDS

It certainly cannot be said to be because of poor playing facilities as in the past—but rather to the failure of the team to develop a spirit of unity and a will to win and to give their best at all times.

After the increased burden upon the citizens of Montpelier to provide our teams with a huge floor, vast seating capacity and equipment second to none, only winning teams can give them a feeling of justification for these immense expenditures.

The squad of 1940-41 made many mistakes 'tis true, and we sincerely hope that future teams may profit by these errors and win back some of its long lost prestige among basketball rivals.

Nov. 30th—To open the season we managed to squeeze out a victory over Stryker. (M. 25 to S. 22)

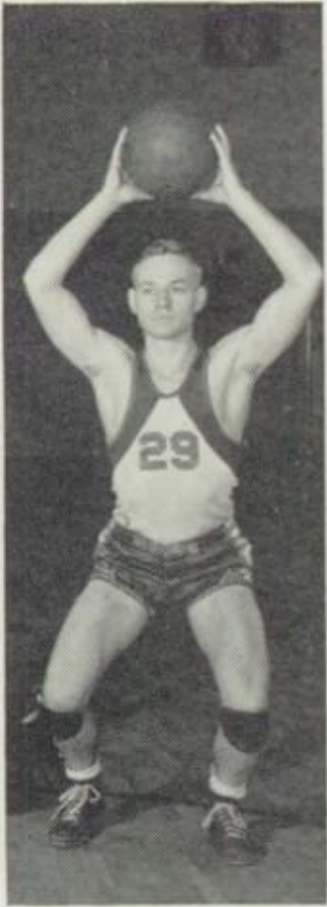

Dec. 7th—A last minute basket gave West Unity the deciding edge. (M. 26 to W. U. 28)

BASKETBALL TEAM

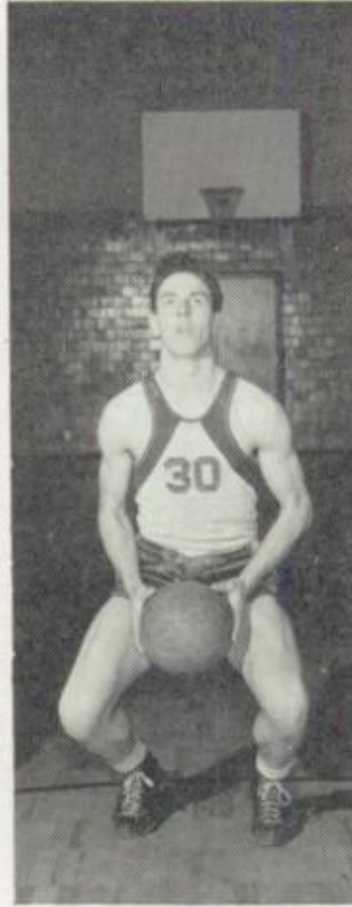

First row: Walter Conolly, Bob Weidner, Harry Robinson, James Stahl, Charles Bratton.

Second row: Coach Clyde Bliss, Willard Allen, Tom Calero, Lee Powers, Hal Cook, John Childers, Randolph White.

JAMES STAHL

With a cool head and a far reaching arm, Jim was awarded the position of center. His fine defensive playing will be missed in future years.

HARRY ROBISON

Harry's height made him our key man for rebounds. His ability for "tip ins" with fine offensive and defensive playing will be missed next year.

ROBERT WEIDNER

Bob has gained a name for himself through his skill in handling the ball, either on offensive or defensive playing. His long shots and left-handed ones put many points on the scoreboard for us.

Dec. 13th—Napoleon furnished the opposition for our first league game and also our first home game. The local crowd was inspiring and with a closely knit defense the home town gagers turned in a fight for victory. M. 25 to N. 20)

Dec. 20th—The Montpelier-Bryan game, at Bryan, usually a sellout, drew another fine crowd. Montpelier was humbled as Robinette set a new league individual scoring record. (M. 18 to B. 50)

Dec. 22nd—The Locomotives worked up a nice lead over Alvordton but quit before the gun cracked. The last few minutes proved disastrous as our lead sunk into oblivion. (M. 40 to A. 42)

Dec. 24th—The alumni were determined but short of practice the varsity quintet managed to ring the cage more often. (M. 24 to A. 19)

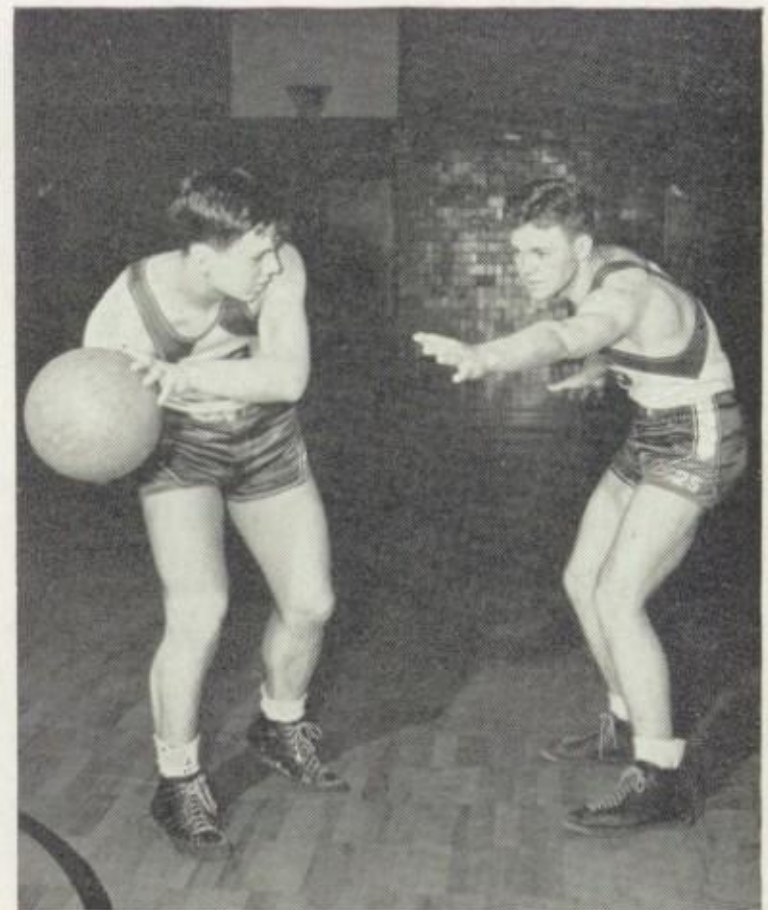

Jan. 4th—Hicksville's fine team—who reached the semi-finals in the state Class B Tournament—downed us by a small margin. (M. 25 to H. 27)

Jan. 10th—Wauseon's Warriors of the Hardwood really swished the net. The Indians took home another scalp. (M. 33 to W. 54)

Jan. 11th—A basket with 5 seconds to play gave Edon the ball game. Our fourth 2-point loss of the season. (M. 36 to E. 38)

Jan. 17th—Rated the toughest team in the league, Defiance found our defense inconsistent and won by a sizeable margin. (M. 26 to D. 40)

Jan. 18th—Pioneer turned it on in the last few minutes to win hardily. (M. 21 to P. 31)

LEE POWERS

WILLARD ALLEN

Willard's ambition to pull the game out of fire for us and his constant urging his teammates on to victory has gained him renown as a straight shooter.

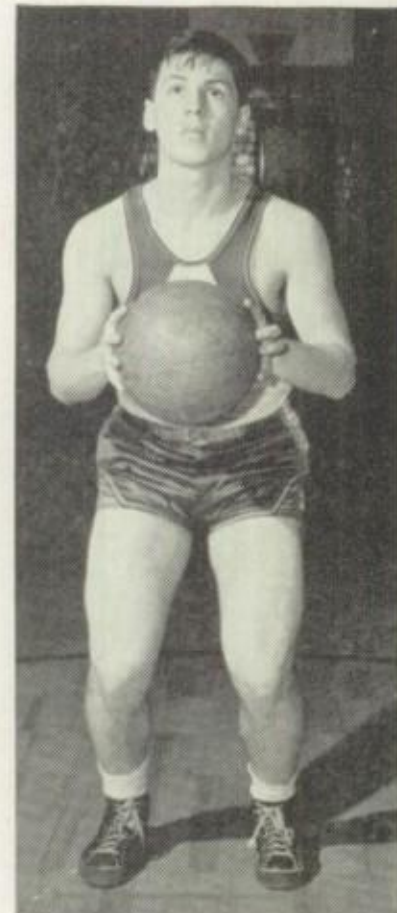

HAL COOK

What Hal lacked in size he made up with his fighting spirit. Through his clean playing and fast footwork he was easily recognized as one of our best forwards.

TOM CALERO

Tom's skill and accuracy were not lacking on the basketball floor, and he gained an enviable record as a good sportsman.

LEE POWERS

Lee's constant drive after the ball and his unique methods of handling it gave him an undisputed position on our varsity.

Jan. 24th—Both teams started slow but the Golden Bears of Bryan finished the stronger. The margin was considerable less than the first game of the season, but the result the same. (M. 18 to B. 30)

Jan. 31st—The league leading Bulldogs from Defiance found the Locomotives unexpectedly tough on their home floor. A nip and tuck affair provided thrills aplenty. Defiance's superiority was proven in the end, however. (M. 31 to D. 36)

Feb. 7th—The Montpelierites were pitched to a new high to meet Wauseon. A frenzied crowd saw the Indians fine fast break attack broken up until the last minute when it functioned perfectly for two quick baskets to win the game. (M. 32 to W. 35)

Feb. 8th—The local team played hosts to Edgerton and came out of their slump to win a thriller. (M. 23 to E. 18)

Feb. 14th—The Napoleon Corporals found the nets at will and when the gun cracked they had found revenge for a early season defeat at the hands of the Locomotives. (M. 32 to N. 43)

—Lee Powers.

WHERE MINUTES COUNT

Track is fast becoming a very popular sport and each year drawing its share of enthusiasts.

Coach Radenbaugh, found plenty of seasoned timber, ready for tryouts and soon, there were tidings that records were being broken in practice, and Montpelier fans began to take courage. Many of the players, were on the team that last year won co-sectional honors and much was to be expected.

Yes that old tradition was present, that we will support you if you win, or forsake you if you lose.

TRACK PERSONALITIES

COACH RADENBAUGH

The one man who deserves all the credit for a win is not the star runner or vaulter but the "coach" who spent hours and perhaps days teaching the technique of the event. "Tobe" our coach is the one person who can make a runner win. He can bring out the good points and put them where they will count for most—Our hats off to "Tobe" and future winners.

HAL COOK—An excellent high jumper topping the bar at 5'-9" and above average on the broad jump, pole vault, and low hurdles.—He takes these events in perfect form in spite of his height.

JAMES STAHL—Made history by breaking an all-time record in the sectional meet at Bowling Green in pole vault at 11'-11 3/8". He was starter in the sprint relay. Ran a fast 100, 220 and did exceedingly well in each.

RAY JUMP—"Put" represents one half of the field men, specializing with "discus" which he could throw over 120 feet—as well as putting the shot in far off places.

RELAY TEAM

Left to Right—James Stahl, Dean Richmond, Val Connally, Roger Ely, Ralph Huber.

HARRY ROBINSON—The other half of our field men, and chosen for shot put, showed the worth of his strong right arm—to the tune of several medals.

ROBERT MILLER—Bob ran in the mile relay with an average speed. He held up with a fair pace the third place in the mile relay.

LELAND HAYNES and HOWARD MYERS—"Porky" and Howard served as managers during the track season and took their share of the burdens incidental to track teams.

CHARLES BRATTON—"Chuck" took the low hurdles in perfect form with a good speedy finish.

DONALD ECHLER—"Don" made a good showing in the "half mile" and is fine potential timber.

JERRY CHAPPELL—Jerry, quiet and reserved, ran second in our mile relay, and was able to keep neck and neck with his opponent.

CHESTER McKARNS—"Chet" was our one and only miler, who could be depended upon to win. He had a running technique all of his own staying in the first three positions until the last lap and then sprinting the rest of the way in.

RALPH HUBER—He is our specialty in sprint relay. His finish was always sure to bring cheers of praise from the spectators. He ran the 100, 440, and 220 with high honors.

DENE RICHMOND—Had an unerring arm for the discus and was above the average in the sprint relay—mile relay and the 220.

WALTER BAUER—Much is to be expected from this land who was a beginner this year in broad jump.

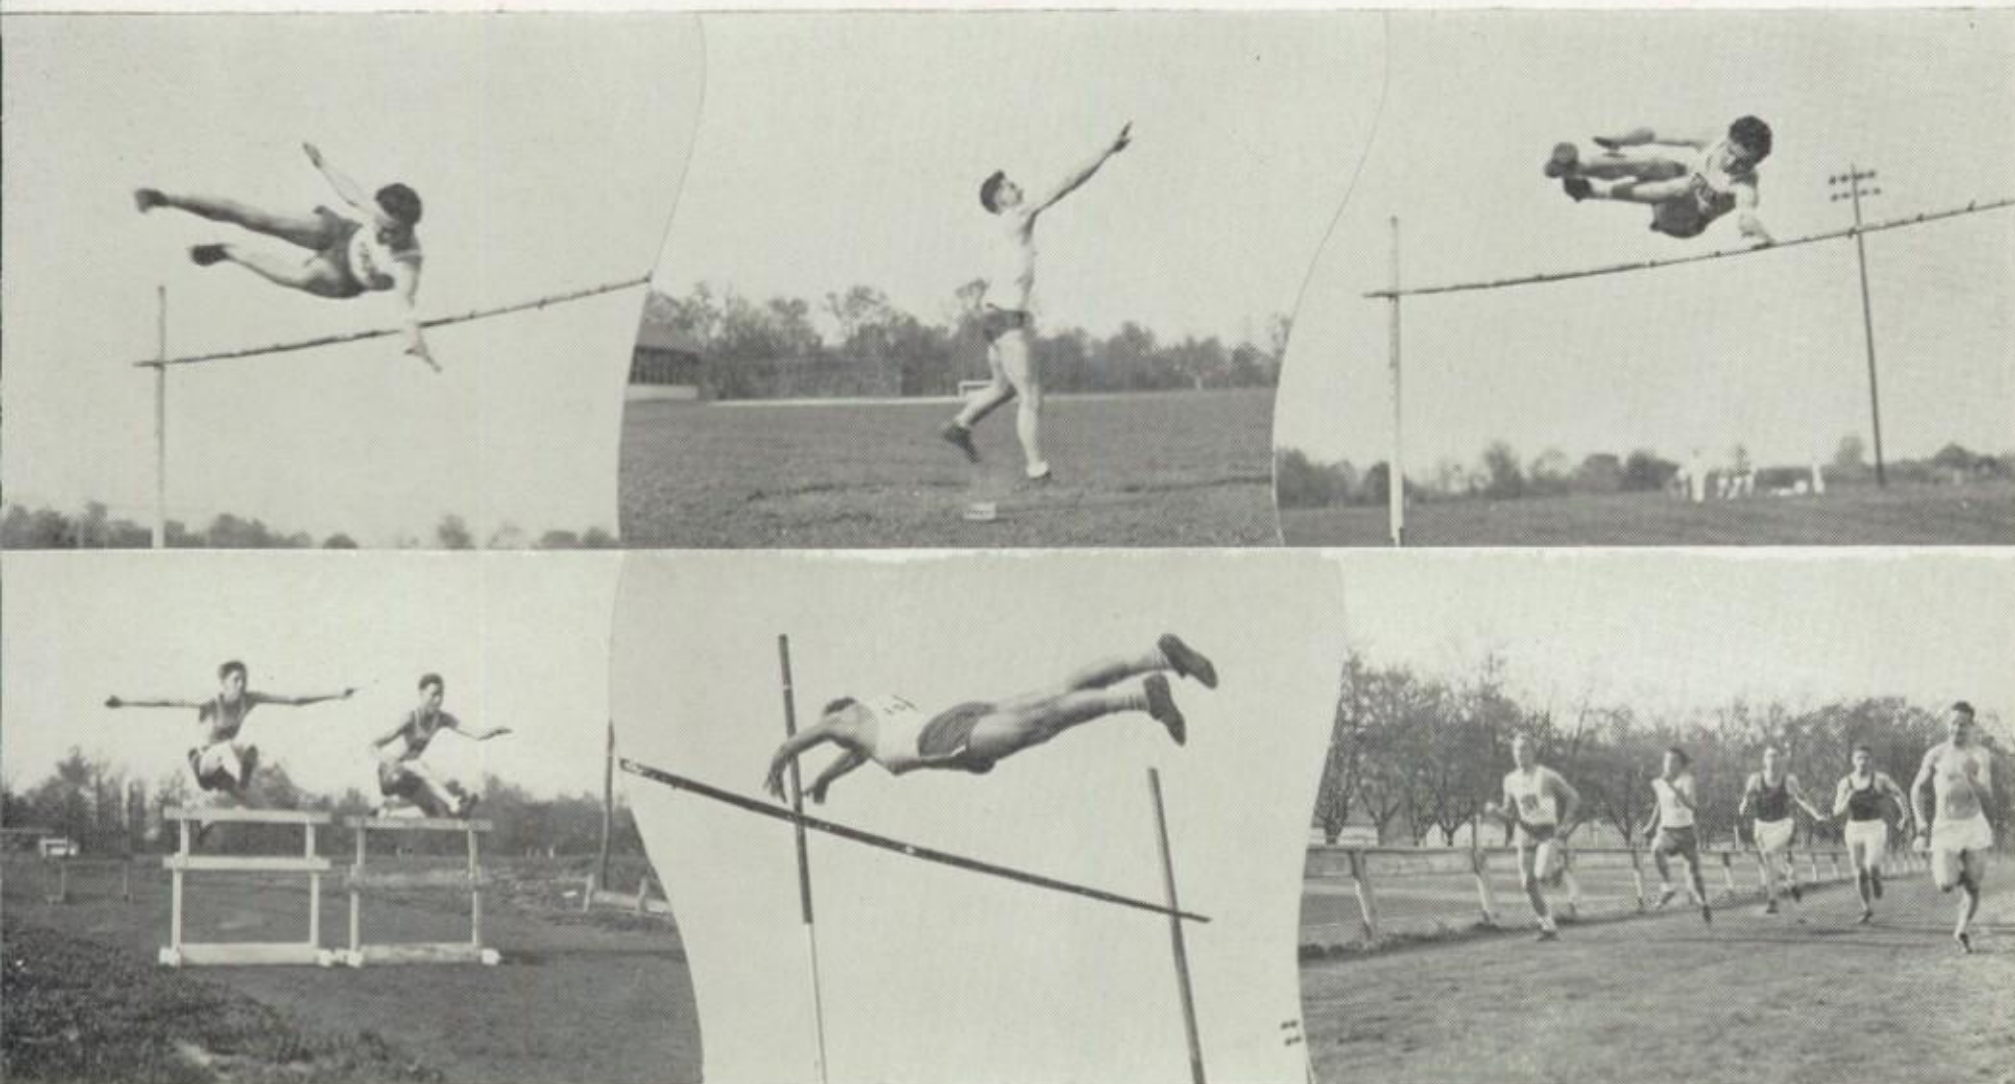

VAL CONNOLEY—"Val" took the low and high hurdles in good form, and was also able to mark a good score in mile relay.

DONALD MILLER—He was a real fighter, and was at the front of the line.

ROGER ELY—"Doc" has started on the road to glory with a fine beginning. He held up the third place in the sprint relay in spite of all odds.

—Robert Miller.

MANY EVENTS PLEASE YOUNG SOCIALITES

It has been a pleasure indeed to have a part in the many festive occasions of the year, and particularly have they been more interesting, because of the facilities furnished by the new gymnasium.

Some of the more prominent calendar events were:

GRIDIRON HEROES MAKE LAST TACKLE

This might well be a keyhole report for feminine reporters dared not venture into the precincts of such an audacious and blood-thirsty group.

Yet from afar we could see a whole host of handsome and well-groomed youth (such as we never witnessed before) seated about many long tables beautifully decorated in patriotic colors, with places marked by unique programs symbolic of the sport. They evidently followed the old adage, Eat, Drink, and be Merry, for we could see the Mothers hurrying too and fro' with huge platters and dishes steaming with all the good things that delight the palate and satisfy the pangs of hunger. Indeed we worried a bit, lest this over-indulgence might prove fatal.

A well-planned program gave opportunity for an exchange of ideas and time for reminiscing. The sportsmanship and tenacity of the team members was paid due tribute and the coveted letters awarded by Coach Bliss.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

In appreciation of their guidance, their devotion, their sacrifices, the members of the Girl Reserve organization proudly ushered their mothers into the Gymnasium on the evening of May 24. Seated at beautiful laid tables they were served a delicious dinner planned by the girls themselves. Carnations were presented to the Senior mothers and to the Senior girls who were soon to bid farewell to the Alma Mater.

FORMAL DANCE

Another gala evening was spent in the gymnasium when the Student Council sponsored a formal dance. Lads and lassies danced to popular tunes furnished by the High School Swing orchestra. Delicious refreshments were served to satisfy gnawing hunger, and it was time to bid adieu.

LATIN LEAGUE PARTY

A delicious potluck dinner was held by the members of the Latin League on March 19. The group enjoyed dancing and games.

GIRL RESERVES AND HI-Y DANCE

The Girl Reserves and Hi-Y organizations sponsored a dance on May 16th which will live long in our memory. The entire student body and faculty were invited. The gymnasium was gaily decorated in varied colors and the evening was immensely enjoyable to us all. The Montpelier High School orchestra furnished the music for dacing.

F.H.A.-F.F.A. BANQUET

The banquet of the Future Farmer and Homemakers was an occasion looked forward to by some ninety students of our high school.

Amid a most appropriate and patriotic color scheme of red, white and blue, parents and students assembled in an evening of fellowship, to share in part some of the advantage that students of today experience.

A delicious three course dinner which had been prepared by the Future Homemakers themselves, was direct evidence, that the accomplishments of the youth of today are worthy of emulation.

After the Physical being had been supplied, the master of ceremonies, Rolland Lattanner, presented as the guest speaker, Mr. Perry Faulkner who gave a very interesting and applicable discourse on what the FHA and the FFA stands for and how they are really preparing for the future.

CALL TO THE COLORS

Mr. Jno Bower, head of the Science department and an enthusiastic promoter of school activities tendered his resignation as a pedagogue and took up the work of fighting for Uncle Sam. He enlisted in the air corps and is now stationed at Coral Gables, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton were delightful hosts at a farewell party given in his honor, and we were reminded on every hand that we were all a part and a vital party in fighting for the "Land of Liberty."—Patriotic favors and tallies as well as the menu bore mute testimony of the fact that our democracy must be protected.—As a gesture of the esteem in which Mr. Bower was held, a fine piece of luggage was presented by the faculty to the tune "We're in the Army Now."

JUNIOR-SENIOR BANQUET

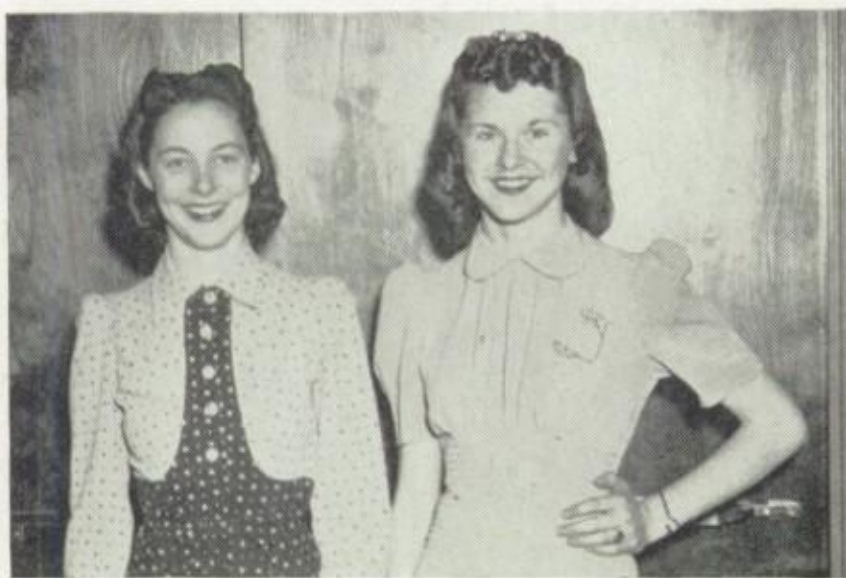

The one event on the social calendar of the schools activities, which attracts not only the guests but parents and friends as well, is the Junior-Senior Banquet.

As we enter the spacious halls we are dazzled on every hand by the splendor and magnificance of the occasion: Hosts of young socialities gayly dart here and there complimenting each other about frock, jewel or corsage. We pause to take note of the beautiful costumes which have been chosen for the event and marvel at the spectacle, which could not be equalled by even the Debutant's of Washington. Neither do we miss the Style book of the sterner sex, who in most modern attire, make feminine hearts to flutter and grow weak.

At the appointed hour gates to the beautiful garden of enchantment were thrown open to the melodious strains of "Apple Blossom Time," and we were wafted into a magic world artistically decorated with boughs of apple blossoms multi-colored balloons and bands of festooning where places marked by the swinging gate were laid for two hundred guests.

An appropriate program furnished amusement for the hour, while members of the Sophomore class, clad in costumes of fiesta shades faultlessly served the delicious and appetising repast, and as a final gesture—presented each Senior lady with their class flower (a red rose).

The lights grew dim and the scene changed, as lilting strains of Carl Young's Orchestra gave signs that the time for dancing was at hand, and every girl was a lovely princess and her escort was Prince Charming. Yes, hours sped like minutes and all too soon, Apple Blossom Time was ended.
